Notes / Description

The unit runs and drives. The engine information was acquired via a VIN decoder software. The mileage on the unit appears to be low for the amount of wear on the unit and year of the unit. The front left fender is broken and missing a piece out of it. The front grill is missing a piece out of it and paint is worn. The right turn signal lens appears to be taped together. The hood appears to have some paint scratches on it. The expanded metal platform above the cab has holes in it and appears to be bent. The right door has a dent in it at the bottom. The right and left lower sides of the box have dents and rust spots on it. The rear tailgate appears to be rusted on the bottom right edge. The paint is peeling on the storage boxes. The left mirror bracket is missing a bolt out of it. The left door paint is peeling. The frame rails and undercarriage is rusty. The rear bumper is bent. The rear wheel chocks are missing and the metal housings are bent. The right leaf spring brackets are missing bolts through them. The rear right top signal light lens is cracked. The right rocker panel below the door appears to be rusted out. The upper step on the left fuel tank appears to be bent. The interior light in the cab is missing the lens cover. The rubber floor covering on the driver side is worn through and torn. The seat is dirty and stained. The floor mat on the right side appears to be torn and missing a piece of the rubber. There is wiring that appears to be disconnected by the outrigger hand controls. The cover over the front left outrigger controls is bent. The front left outrigger hand control is missing a knob on the handle. The coolant is low in the reservoir. The A/C compressor belt appears to be missing. The metal lines in the engine compartment on the left side appear to be oily and possibly leaking. The engine oil is dark in color and low level on the dipstick. The oil fill cap appears to be missing on the fill neck in the engine compartment. The cross braces under the box appear to be rusted through.
