Why Working with a Naturopathic Doctor is Important

Naturopathic skin treatment differs from regular dermatologists treatment because we address your problem from inside and outside.

While the Elapromed can create immediate results, when working in conjunction with a Naturopathic Doctor, you'll also create the proper foundation for long-term results.

With our initial comprehensive assessment, we will help you to identify the contributing factors of your skin problem, then we will guide you to change your diet, detoxify, heal the gut, and balance your hormones.

Elapromed: The Most Advanced Skincare Treatment

Provided by: Circle of Life Wellness Centre

European system for skin rejuvenation

Short treatment time: Dramatic results in a comfortable 25-35 minutes, possibly over lunch, for active women and men

Proven Results: in-vivo and in-vitro research conclusively prove Elapromed's stated skin rejuvenation benefits

No parabens, artificial colours, or fragrances: Elapromed compounds are intelligent-no unnecessary ingredients. Only powerful natural actives necessary to obtain results.

Natural active ingredients: Botanical stem-cells and vital actives combined in the most advanced proprietary formulations that address the face, body, and scalp concerns.

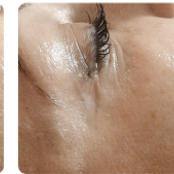

Non-invasive procedure: Low voltage stimulates the skin to open the dermal water channels and allow for high actives absorption with no to little discomfort.

No risk of scarring: Because the skin is never broken in the procedure, scarring and other abrasive effects are not possible.

No downtime: skin looks greatly improved immediately after the treatment, and you can go back to your normal activities.

Transdermalporation

Elapromed utilizes electronic micro-impulses which encourages the skin to absorb up to 70ml of our natural corrective nutritive formulations directly into the dermis. Virtually acting like an electronic syringe, this breakthrough technology enables the technician to fill lines and reduce wrinkles, decrease pigmentation and even stretch marks.

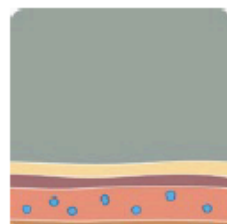

- 1 The micro-current in the Stilo increases the electrical conductivity and permeability of the cell plasma membrane, creating additional water channels or "electropores" in the skin, allowing for charged particles to enter subcutaneous tissue at controlled depths. This process takes only a minute and the permeability lasts around 2 minutes before the stratum cornea's natural protection properties reinstate.

- 2 Using the Roll-On Attachment with the Compound, the technology administers the ingredients to the targeted depth in the skin, using the electropores as well as an opposite current, providing an Electro-repulsion effect. The Stilo delivers current directly onto the skin, and the Roller conducts the current to the skin via the active cosmeceutical compound being delivered.

As the compound and the current to the Roller both have a positive charge, when they meet, the ingredients are repulsed into the electropores and further attracted below the epidermis towards the negatively charged electrode positioned comfortably on the patient's back. The outcome is a thorough saturation of the compounds, along with a general lifting, brightening and remoulding of the facial contours.

- 3 During the last few minutes of the treatment, the technician has the option to address issues like deep wrinkles and fine lines with specific products effortlessly added into the protocol to enhance the dermal plumping and rejuvenating effects.

The elapromed Electroporation treatment finishes with a light massage utilizing the remaining treatment product on the skin. Once completed follow with sunscreen (if needed).
