I WISH TO GO TO THE SAN DIEGO ZOO

Living the worry-free life of a typical child is not easy for Cody. The 12-year-old suffers from a form of Muscular Dystrophy that is associated with muscle weakness and wasting. His disorder does not affect his positive attitude and love for sports, video games, and animals.

When Cody was visited by his Wish-Granting Volunteers, he was certain about his one true wish. He surprised everyone when he answered, "I want to go to the San Diego Zoo with my parents and older sister, Ashley, to have fun together as a family". Due to his interests it was expected he would wish to meet a sports hero. Their family has never travelled on an airplane before either.

Cody and his family plan to jet off to San Diego in July to begin their fun-filled adventure. They have an action-packed week planned including seeing all of the animals and even feeding a giraffe.

For Cody and his family, this trip and the entire wish process will bring joy to their lives at a time when they need it most. They will be able to forget about the countless tests and medical treatments and enjoy being a family. These heartfelt memories will last a lifetime.
