

I'm Going to Big Umbrella Day at Lincoln Center!

Big Umbrella Day is a FREE event at Lincoln Center full of relaxed spaces with multi-sensory experiences, performances, installations, and workshops for neurodivergent audiences and their families.

I can choose to come all day or just visit for a short while.

I can participate in workshops and make visual art, watch performances indoors and outdoors, and visit the Garden to plant my own seeds.

If I want to stay late, I can join in a Silent Disco on the Dance Floor.

What I Need to Know

Big Umbrella Day is at Lincoln Center's campus, located between West 62nd Street and West 65th Street, between Columbus and Amsterdam Avenues.

I can join activities and watch performances at:

The Dance Floor

The Garden

David Geffen Hall –
Sidewalk Studio

Hearst Plaza

David Geffen Hall –
Grand Promenade

David Geffen Hall – Lower Lobby

If I need to take a break, I can walk around the David Geffen Hall Lobby or outdoors at Lincoln Center, or I can visit a Chill Out Space. There are two Chill Out Spaces:

Outdoors at The Garden at Damrosch Park, close to the interactive gardening activity

Indoors in David Geffen Hall

I can use the bathrooms in the lobby of David Geffen Hall or on the Grand Promenade of David Geffen Hall.

When I am preparing to come to Lincoln Center, I can plan to bring:

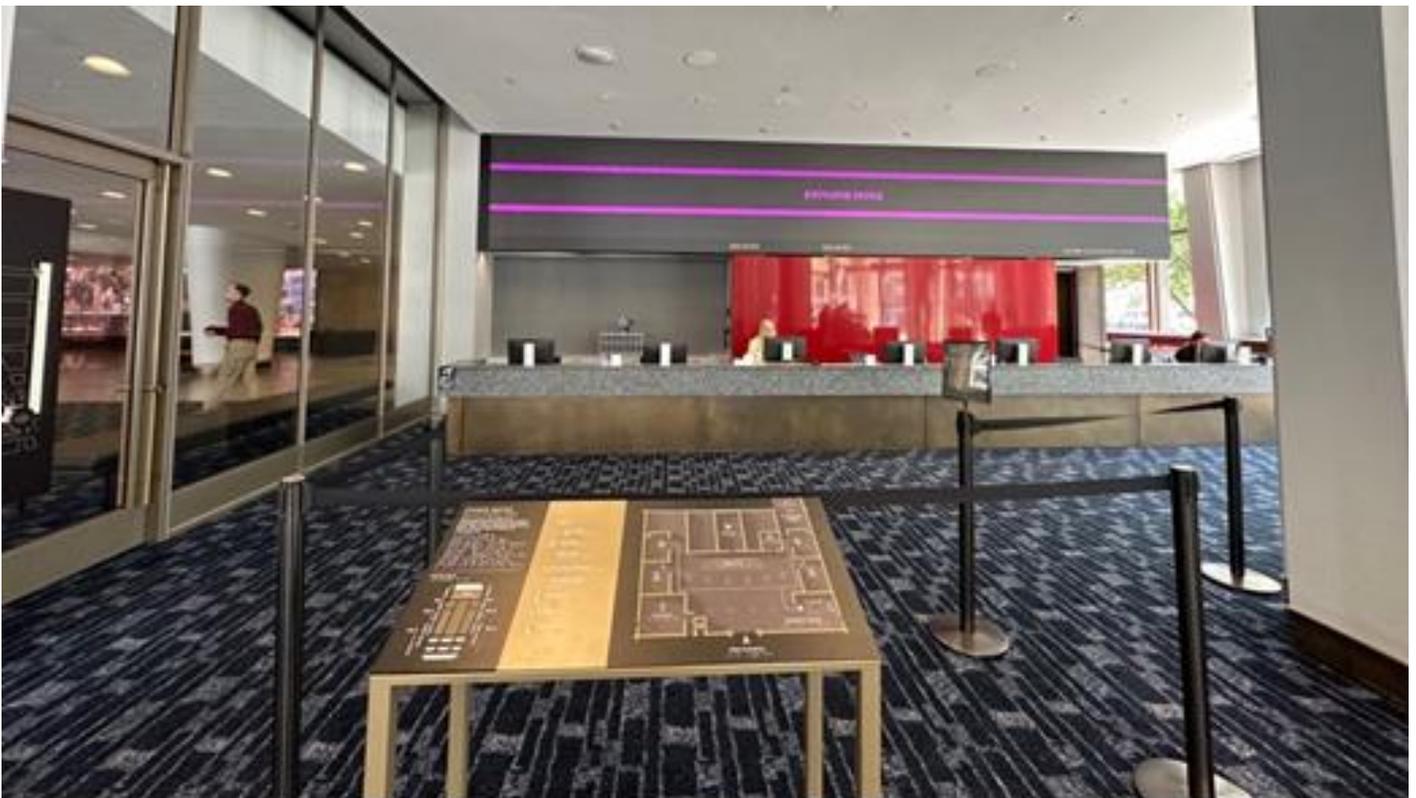

A refillable water bottle and my favorite snack
Sunglasses and sunscreen for when I am outside
My favorite fidget or noise-reducing headphones (I can borrow at Lincoln Center)
Standard jack headphones if I would like an assistive listening device (I can borrow at Lincoln Center)
My phone or camera to take some pictures of me and my family at Lincoln Center

When I arrive at Lincoln Center, I can visit the Welcome Center and ask for a map and visual schedule with information about the day's activities. I can borrow noise-reducing headphones and fidgets to take around with me.

When I Arrive

I can plan to travel to the Welcome Center at David Geffen Hall, near the corner of West 64th Street and Columbus Avenue.

This is a good place to arrive and find out information about the day's events, where there are restrooms and places to sit and relax. The Welcome Center will open at 10am on Big Umbrella Day.

I do not need a ticket to come to Big Umbrella Day – I can just show up!

If the event I am interested in or the art station I want to explore is busy when I arrive, I can check the schedule to see if there is time to come back later.

American Ballet Theatre Dance Workshops at 1pm and 4pm

If I registered for “Waltzing with Flowers: An Adaptive Dance Workshop with American Ballet Theatre”, I should plan to check in at the Sidewalk Studio 15 minutes before the workshop begins.

The Sidewalk Studio is inside David Geffen Hall. When I enter the lower lobby, there will be signs and staff to help direct me to the Sidewalk Studio.

If I did not register in advance for a dance workshop, I can check in with the Lincoln Center Team to see if there will be space when I arrive at Big Umbrella Day.
