

Seen, Sound, Scribe Soft Loving Ways at the David Rubenstein Atrium

Brooklyn's Mahogany L. Browne—a prolific writer, advocate for public art, and Lincoln Center's inaugural poet-in-residence—hosts Soft Loving Ways, the September iteration of her Seen, Sound, Scribe series. Browne brings together a thought-provoking gathering of creators: filmmaker Amhalise Morgan; poets Cyrus Aaron, Fred T. Joseph, and Joél Leon and DJ Jive Poetic for a night of creative work where men are seen with adoration, with love, and with softness through film, poetry, dialogue, and music.

This is a relaxed performance. Open to all, but designed for people with autism, sensory and communication disorders or learning disabilities. The artistic integrity of the piece remains unchanged, however modifications to social and sensory environment may be made.
