

Juilliard Green Club Presents an Earth Day Concert at the David Rubenstein Atrium

Presented in collaboration with The Juilliard Green Club of The Juilliard School

Dancers, actors, and musicians from The Juilliard Green Club are thrilled to take the stage to present a multi-genre, immersive concert experience.

This performance is general admission with a run time of 2 hours. It is also part of our Relaxed Performance series. Open to all, but designed for people with autism, sensory and communication disorders or learning disabilities. The artistic integrity of the piece remains unchanged, however modifications to social and sensory environment may be made.

Audience Entrance and Security Protocol

Tickets are not required for performances at the David Rubenstein Atrium, and admission is free and open to the public, however guests with Fast Track tickets have priority entry up to 10 minutes before the event begins at 11:00am.

Seating and entry are first-come, first-served. If the Atrium reaches capacity, or shortly before showtime, a line may form at the Atrium's entrance on Broadway, between 62nd and 63rd Street.

If you cannot stand in line due to a disability, please contact the Lincoln Center Access Team at access@lincolncenter.org or by calling 212 875 5375.

Guests will be greeted by Lincoln Center staff and will be directed to enter through a security checkpoint to scan for weapons in a quick and touchless manner.

About The Performance

We ask our audience to consider our collective futures in the face of climate change amidst differences in background, class, resources, and geographical location. Artists have always looked either to the past or forward to an unknown future, often attempting to predict what awaits all of us with the knowledge that they have in their time. This need to consider our place and agency within a larger context is one artists always struggle with; but today, it is something we all struggle with, as the choices necessary to guarantee a safe future are not in our hands.

We will consider art that seeks out the past, present, and future of our Earth to answer the following question: how have artists considered their futures in the past, and what can we learn from them in imagining our own future?

Performance Venue

Armless chairs are arranged in several rows on two sides of the raised stage, with a rug in the center for sitting and dancing. Guests are welcome to sit in any open seat or move and dance in open spaces. All seating is general admission in the main seating area. There may be seats marked “reserved” in some sections.

Please note that seating is available on a first-come, first-served basis. You are also welcome to stand during the performance or to sit further to the sides on large public benches. There is space to move and walk around in the Atrium during the performance.

You are welcome to leave the Atrium during the performance. If the performance is not at capacity, you can re-enter at any time.

The Independent Café serves food and drinks in the Atrium. During events and performances, guests can purchase beverages at the counter to enjoy.

Restrooms

Accessible, gender-neutral restrooms and changing tables are available inside the Atrium. There is a restroom on the first level behind the desk.

There are additional restrooms on the second floor, accessible by elevator. You can ask a Lincoln Center staff member at the desk for the key and directions to this location.

Accommodations

This venue has accessible routes, with designated wheelchair and companion seating.

FM assistive listening devices with headsets and neck loops are available for all performances. Additionally, guests are welcome to bring their own headphones and standard jack headsets.

A chill out space is on the west side of the Atrium, nearest Columbus Avenue. Noise-reducing headphones, earplugs, fidgets, and other sensory items are available to borrow.

Access Concierge Service: Access Reps, trained to support guests with disabilities, are available to provide 1:1 support for individual guests and their party. Must be scheduled in advance.

If you require any additional accommodations, please contact access@lincolncenter.org or 212 875 5375.
