CLIENT ENTERTAINMENT

- Bring an Artistic Director or Conductor from one of our resident organizations to a c-suite meeting to have a lively conversation about leading a diverse group of people in concert.
- Host leadership retreats, conferences, and other events relying on our support and expertise to craft a memorable and productive gathering.

EMPLOYEE ENRICHMENT

Opportunities to engage employees through arts and culture and facilitate staff bonding by bringing artists directly to your employees in the office.

- Bring senior managers to campus to meet with orchestra section leaders prior to a performance to chat about leadership and the arts.
- Support the educational institutions on campus by hiring Juilliard students to perform a private concert to your staff during lunch or a holiday party.
- Offer employee groups the opportunity to hear from a master artist with a connection to their affinity group.

ACCESS TO VENUES

There are multiple locations within the 16-acre Lincoln Center campus where your company can host a cocktail reception or dinner prior to seeing a performance from one of 10 world class resident organizations.

Our venues can host conferences, small and large meetings, galas, cocktail receptions and much more. The LCCF team can help facilitate conversations with venue sales and guide you to the best venue for your event.

- Bring your team meetings to campus in the spectacular newly reopened David Geffen Hall, and after the meeting grab a drink at its new restaurant Tatiana prior to seeing the New York Philharmonic
- Bring your summer associates, employees, and/or clients out to Lincoln Center's summer programming for an evening of cultured fun. Host your guests in one of our VIP venues, The Deck or The Pavilion, for a private event followed by reserved, premier seating at the show of your choice.
