Media Advisory: Explore Fairbanks celebrates Condor's 15 years of seasonal service to Fairbanks

Fairbanks, Alaska (AK) – On May 24, 2001, Fairbanks welcomed Condor Airline's inaugural flight from Frankfurt, Germany, into the Golden Heart City. There have been 232 weekly seasonal flights since that initial one, resulting in a total of almost 14,200 passengers who have flown into Fairbanks, including local residents who have used the airline as a convenient way to travel overseas.

Explore Fairbanks is celebrating Condor's 15 years of service to Fairbanks, beginning with an event on Thursday, July 16, at 1:30pm at the Fairbanks International Airport, to coincide with the arrival of that week's incoming Condor flight. Representatives from the Condor office in Chicago as well as officials from Explore Fairbanks will be on hand at the event and available for media interviews. The event will take place near the second baggage claim area on the south end of the first floor.

Condor is offering 11 weekly flights between Frankfurt and Fairbanks for summer 2015. For summer 2016, the airline is expanding with an additional two flights.
