Cheyenne's RX Tea Time Named a Top Tea House by CNN

Cheyenne's RX Tea Time has been named as one of the world's top tea houses in an article published on CNN's website. The article, entitled "11 of the World's Best Tea Houses", describes tea houses from throughout the world, including Canada, Myanmar, Japan, China, England, and the United States.

Rx Tea Time offers a Victorian era experience, in terms of décor, tea cups, tea preparation, service, and food delicacies offered. Servers wear Victorian clothing, and many customers do as well (although this is not required). The shop is located at 1605 Pebrican Avenue in downtown Cheyenne.

"Wow, what an honor to be recognized with such amazing tea houses from around the globe, said owner Wanda Frank. "Tea has always been my passion, and we are proud to offer healthy teas for our customers in Cheyenne."

The author of the article, Adrienne Jordan, visited Cheyenne last summer as part of a media familiarization tour sponsored by Visit Cheyenne, the tourism organization for the Cheyenne area.
