Mr. Jim McCain
Southern Bleacher Company, TX

Dear Mr. McCain

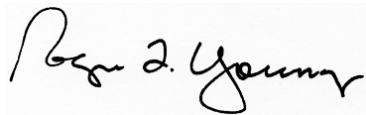

I am writing to express my appreciation along with over 400 facility leaders throughout the country for the outstanding webcast presentation that you along with Mark Beaulieu (Hussey Seating), Bill Kolster (VA), and John Dufay (NM) recently delivered on the topic of Improving Bleacher and Grandstand Safety: Tips for Reducing Risks. The Facility Masters Webcast Series is provided at no charge to school facility leaders throughout the country. All of the webcasts are recorded and available at www.facilitymastersonline.com/webcasts

On August 28, you, Bill, and John delivered an extremely interesting and informative webcast describing best practices and processes for managing indoor bleachers and outdoor seating through regular inspections and timely repairs. This presentation enables facility leaders to do a more effective job at maintaining a safe, clean and well maintained environment while also managing school resources that are provided by the public. And, as you know, all K-12 schools need to continually find ways to meet student, staff and community expectations within fiscal constraints.

From my perspective, it is evident that you and the Southern Bleacher Company are providing significant leadership in assisting school facility leadership to manage school facilities and implement best practices and processes.

I also wish to congratulate you and your organization for sharing successful practices with our colleagues at the national level.

Respectfully yours,

Roger L. Young – Executive Director
