(No. 18 for summer vacations in the world)

Mansion tours, delectable seafood and scenic shorelines attract vacationers to Newport, Rhode Island, in the summer months. The excellent weather doesn't hurt either. You can expect sunny days and average highs in the low to high 70s. Once you've explored the Colonial homes and local shops on Thames Street, pack a picnic lunch and head to the beach – there are several to choose from.
