Save the Date: ATL Airport District Restaurant Week Returns in March
Annual culinary celebration will take place in College Park, East Point, Hapeville and Union City from Saturday, March 21, through Sunday, March 29, 2020.

ATLANTA (January 27, 2020) – Calling all ATL foodies! The ATL Airport District cordially invites gourmands to taste and sip their way through the District this March! The convention and visitors bureau for the cities of College Park, East Point, Hapeville and Union City, Ga., ATL Airport District, will host the 7th Annual ATL Airport District Restaurant Week from Saturday March 21, through Sunday, March 29, 2020.

During this nine-day culinary event, all local Atlantans, urban explorers and visitors to the area will have the opportunity to explore local restaurants of all kinds in College Park, East Point, Hapeville and Union City. Participating restaurants will feature $9, $19, or $29 prix fixe menus or signature dishes at a 20 percent discount during Restaurant Week. All menu prices will be valid for brunch, lunch and/or dinner and exclude alcohol, tax and gratuity. Guests can expect everything from classic, down-home Southern eats to plates that put a spin on any average meal. Whatever your taste buds crave, the District's finest fare awaits you!

"After a banner year in 2019, we look forward to continuing to showcase the District's culinary talent during this year's event," said Cookie Smoak, president of ATL Airport District, "Restaurant Week is a delicious way for our community and visitors to gather around the table, savor a diverse array of cuisine and celebrate these cherished dining destinations."

ATL Airport District Restaurant Week will kick off in March and a full list of 2020 participants will be announced soon.
