The Shore House — a historic, boutique inn situated directly on the beach in Narragansett, Rhode Island — has announced its soon-to-be completed property-wide refresh, set to open on May 1, 2021. Formerly the Ocean Rose Inn, The Shore House will debut with a new name and updated look that instantly transports guests to a modern, nautically inspired "home away from home," that still pays homage to the rich history of the destination.

Located beachside and inspired by its New England setting, The Shore House received a thorough makeover, with its existing main inn and landmark Victorian-style home serving as the base to the full hotel. Here, the hotel will welcome guests back with a vibrant refresh of nine of its 31 rooms — 18 of which were recently renovated the year prior and located in the Oceanside building — as well as state-of-the-art common spaces, a reimagined lobby and brand-new restaurant called Sea Craft set to open this summer.
