2022 SMACK WINTERFEST NEW ENGLAND VOLLEYBALL AT CT CONVENTION CENTER TO BRING OVER 20,000 VISITORS TO HARTFORD OVER THREE CONSECUTIVE WEEKENDS

Kicks Off This Saturday, January 8th

HARTFORD, CONN., January 6, 2022 – Five thousand seven hundred (5,700) youth volleyball players on 521 teams from across the Northeast are coming to the Connecticut Convention Center at 100 Columbus Blvd. in Hartford, Conn. this month to compete in the “2022 Smack New England Winterfest Volleyball Tournament”. More than 20,000 visitors are expected over three weekends, including the young athletes and thousands of family members, friends, tournament officials, college coaches, fans and spectators.

During the tournament’s first weekend this Saturday, January 8 and Sunday, January 9, organizers will welcome close to 1,000 athletes (82 teams of 10 to 12 players), in one age group division for girls age 16, and in six age divisions for boys ages 14-18.

At the largest of the three weekends on the three-day Martin Luther King Jr. Day weekend, from Saturday, January 15 through Monday, January 17, over 2,500 female athletes (233 teams), ages 16-18, will compete in Open/USA/America/Club competition.

On the final weekend, Saturday, January 22 and Sunday, January 23, organizers will welcome slightly over 2,000 female athletes (204 teams of 10 to 12 players), ages 12-18, in 10 age group divisions for girls.

“This year, we expanded the tournament this year to three weekends,” explains Roxann Link, Junior Commissioner of the New England Region Volleyball Association, Inc. (NERVA). “It is an exciting spectator event where families come to cheer on their volleyball-playing daughters and sons. Since the Northeast has one of the largest concentrations of Collegiate Division II and Division III schools in the nation, with lots of NAIA schools here as well, we expect many college recruiting coordinators to come and scout the athletes,” adds Link. “Players will compete on 28 courts in the exhibit halls of the Connecticut Convention Center with 12 matches per court most days, each lasting approximately one hour.”

“This annual tournament kicks the year off with a great economic boost for the Greater Hartford region,” explains Robert Murdock, President of the Connecticut Convention & Sports Bureau (CTmeetings), the state’s official meetings and sports event sales and marketing organization. “The popular event is expected to generate approximately $6.61 Million in revenue over its three weekends as visitors stay in over 25 area hotels, dine in local restaurants, shop, and enjoy nearby attractions.” Murdock reports an estimated 2,197 jobs in the region’s hospitality industry will be supported by this event, and $445,030 in Connecticut Sales Tax will be generated.

“The New England Winterfest tournament was the original Convention Center volleyball event in the Northeast,” adds Dave Peixoto, NERVA Commissioner. “Since its establishment in 2010 at the Connecticut Convention Center, it has almost tripled in size now operating on three weekends. The City of Hartford and its surrounding towns really make our Winterfest players and fans feel welcome. Restaurants extend their hours and customize the menus, the Downtown dash shuttle bus adds hours of operation, and everyone is terrific about accommodating our group.”

“For the eleventh year, the Connecticut Convention Center welcomes the New England Regional Volleyball Association for its Winterfest tournament in Downtown Hartford,” says Michael Costelli, General Manager of the Connecticut Convention Center. “We look forward to the incredible energy the thousands of NERVA athletes, coaches, and spectators bring to Hartford. We are proud to have been the host venue for Winterfest for the past decade and are excited for the years to come.”
