Best things to do in R.I. this week: July 1-8

are plenty of great options before and after July 4 as well.

By Lauren Daley Globe Correspondent, Updated June 30, 2022, 6:00 a.m.

You'll have the best times! Of course, we're focusing on parades and fireworks. But there

Vacation homes for whoever you call family

Learn more

 $\triangleright \times$

Bristol holds its annual Fourth of July parade on July 4, starting at the corner of Chestnut and Hope streets. PAT GREENHOUSE/GLOBE STAFF

Grab your Del's, toast with 'Gannsett, and start up the clam boil. It's Independence Day, Rhody — and not the kind with Tommy Lee Jones. I have so much to mention this 4th of July week, we're gonna make like we're lighting fireworks and launch right... now!

LAST CALL FOR LANTERNS

MENU

THINGS TO DO

Zoo animals are ringing the bell and flashing the house lights: It's last call for Roger Williams Park Zoo's "Asian Lantern Spectacular." Now through July 4, the fam can "journey through a wonderland of larger-than-life illuminated lanterns" and try Asian-inspired cuisine, according to their website. 6-10:30 p.m., $17.95 per adult, $15.95 per child. Register online for a selected time slot. 1000 Elmwood Ave., Providence, R.I. 401-785-3510. Details here.

Advertisement

CLASSICALLY COOL

Attention classical music fans: Here's your chance to see 24 concerts in 17 days.

The 2022 Newport Classical Music Festival, from July 1 to 17, features two dozen concerts inside Newport's historic mansions and venues including The Breakers, The Elms, Blithewold Mansion, Chinese Tea House, and more.

The opening show — Grammy winners Orpheus Chamber Orchestra and violinist Chad Hoopes inside The Breakers on July 1 - is sold out. But there are other options, including:

- Pianist Natasha Paremski, July 2
- Junction Trio, July 3
- Triton Brass: A Salute to America, July 4
- Sarah Cahill: The Future is Female, July 5 •
- Classical Contemporaries: Middle Years, July 6
- Black Oak Ensemble: Silenced Voices, July 6,
- Piano Quintets, July 7
- Inna Faliks: Reimagining Schumann and Ravel, July 7

The Boston Globe

Black News Hour presented by The Boston Globe

Run by Black journalists at The Boston Globe, "Black News Hour," a new radio program, delivers reliable news that connects with our community and expands on deeper issues impacting our city.

BOSTON GLOBE VIDEO

Cassidy Hutchinson, who served as a top aide to former White House chief of staff Mark Meadows, testified before the House panel.

Trump said armed rallygoers were 'not here to hurt me,'

>

Video: attempted to as weapon Hutchinson against State Police says

Boston protesters denounce Supreme Court ruling

Vermont man use excavator overturning Roe v. Wade

Full concert list and details here.

This year's fest includes music by more than 40 women composers, according to Newport Classical. Executive Director Gillian Friedman Fox said in a statement she's "looking forward to introducing our audiences to many rarely performed works by female composers," adding that they have a "particular focus on elevating women in classical music." Learn more here.

PRE-FOURTH CELEBRATION

We pregame in Smithfield, Rhody. Independence Day fun kicks off July 1 at Deerfield Park in Smithfield. Food trucks will be there at 4 p.m., with live music starting at 6 p.m. and a fireworks display at dark. 39 Lisa Ann Circle, in the village of Greenville. Details here.

Advertisement

BRISTOL

The Patriot Flag is carried by the Star Spangled Banner Project during the 236th Fourth of July Celebration in Bristol, R.I., in 2021. PAT GREENHOUSE/GLOBE STAFF

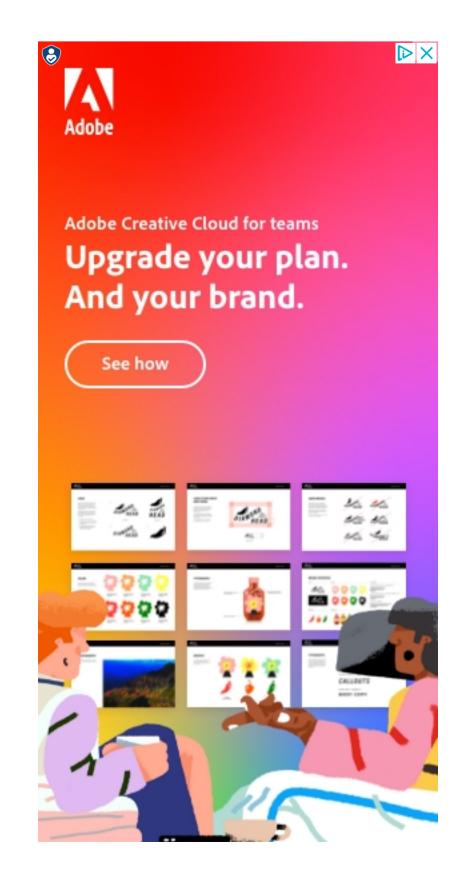

Need I say more? Rhode Islanders know Fourth of July is synonymous with Bristol. Billed as "America's Oldest Fourth of July Celebration," Bristol's fun dates back to 1785 when, according to the website: "Rev. Henry Wight of the First Congregational Church and a Veteran of the Revolutionary War conducted the first Patriotic Exercises." The parade "is believed to have begun in the early 1800s." Here's what on the agenda for 2022:

- July 1: The Fourth of July concert series brings two bands the New Bedford, Mass.-based Red Handed and Boston's '80s rock tribute band, Back in the Day – to Independence Park for a double-bill outdoor concert starting at 6:30 p.m.
- July 2: The Concert Series continues with Aquidneck Island's own Bar Fly and (Dave Matthew fans, rejoice) DMB Project, same time, same place. #AntsMarching
- July 3: The Big Night. Fireworks Night. Fireworks start at 9:30 p.m. over Bristol Harbor.
- July 4: Parade Day. You know the drill: Get there early if you want a good viewing spot. Patriotic Exercises start at 8:30 a.m. at Colt Andrews Elementary School (570 Hope St.) The parade steps off at 10:30 a.m. from the corner of Chestnut and Hope streets, and ends on High Street, between State and Bradford streets. Details here.
- If you're looking to do Bristol in style, you might splurge on tickets to the annual Fourth of July Parade Picnic at the historic Linden Place Mansion on the parade route. The circa-1810 mansion offers breakfast, lunch and a shady parade spot. According to the event listing, guests enjoy "bleacher-style seating" two meals, restroom facilities and "plenty of elbow room." Tickets include catered boxed breakfast from 8 -11 a.m. (coffee, juices, vanilla greek yogurt with dried cranberry granola, double blueberry muffin and seasonal whole fruit) and catered boxed lunch from 11 a.m.-1 p.m., (your chosen sandwich, chips, whole fruit, craft cookie, dill pickle, bottled water and soft drink.) Plus, the mansion will be open for self-guided tours. $95. Limited seating. Call 401-253-0390 for tickets. Details here.

FIREWORKS!

No matter where you live in Rhody, here are a few highlights worth the drive:

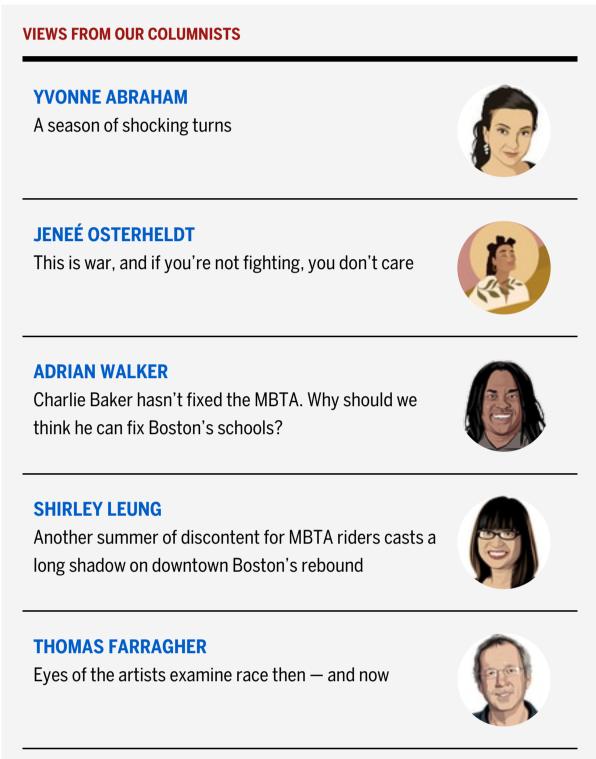

- Sail away to Block Island (yes, I just sang that in the jingle) to see fireworks July 1. Fireworks will be "visible from nearly everywhere on the island" and will launch "as soon as it's suitably dark, probably around 9." Details here.
- North Kingstown's party on July 3 will have food trucks yes, including Del's and System Weiners with the Lafayette Band taking the stage at 7 p.m., and fireworks at dark. Details here.
- Providence celebrates July 3. The party starts at 7 p.m. at India Point Park with a live show "curated by local artist Becky Bass." According to her website, Bass is a vocalist, steel drummer, actor and two-time New England Urban Music Award winner hailing from the U.S. Virgin Islands. Fireworks will go off around 9 p.m. Details here.

MOST POPULAR ON BOSTONGLOBE.COM

- 1. A potential legal bombshell in the Jan. 6 hearing that you might have missed
- 2. Supreme Court limits EPA's regulation of carbon dioxide emissions from power plants
- Biden backs changing Senate filibuster rules to pass abortion, 3. privacy protections
- Fauci was forced to miss his daughter's wedding because he had COVID
- 5. School Committee names Mary Skipper Boston's next superintendent
- 6. Wu wants to bring the buzz back downtown
- 7. Red Sox have bounced back recently, now they just have to figure out the American League East
- Here's a list of people who allegedly requested presidential pardons following the Jan. 6 attack, according to testimony
- The Celtics will be active players in the free agent market
- 10. The Red Sox blew another late lead to the Blue Jays, but an extra-inning rally helped them avoid the sweep

- North Providence celebrates July 3, with a food court from 6 to 9 p.m., music by Reminisce, and fireworks at dark. At Governor John A. Notte, Jr. Park on Twin Rivers. Details here.
- Pawtucket celebrates July 3 with fireworks launched from inside McCoy Stadium. The stadium itself will be closed — the party is in the Joseph Jenks Junior High School front parking lot. Head there for live music and food trucks. Fireworks will begin shortly after 9 p.m. Details here.
- Warwick launches fireworks July 3 at dusk/around 9 p.m. from Oakland Beach. Details here.
- Newport celebrates on July 4th itself with fireworks over Newport Harbor at 9:15 p.m. Details here.
- South Kingstown also celebrates July 4. The fun starts at 5:30 p.m. with a concert from Rhody band Take It To The Bridge. Plus food, concessions 50/50 raffle. Fireworks launch at 9 p.m. Details here.
- East Providence celebrates July 5 at Pierce Stadium with a concert line-up is Marc Dennis, Crystal, Brendan Rush and Bella Hannah, Full Circle Duo, The Stone Leaf, Arlindo Andrade, Manuel Brandao, Andrea Vargas — and fireworks. Gates open 6 p.m., fireworks 9:30 p.m. Details here.

RHODE ISLAND RED CHICK HATCH

OMG OMG. I think I might be more excited for this than for fireworks.

South County Museum holds its annual "4th of July Chick Hatch" from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on their Narragansett campus. Viewers can watch baby chicks emerging from their eggs hatching in the incubator, hold day-old baby chicks, and view the Rhode Island Red Heritage flock maintained on the Museum's Living History Farm. According to the event info, "South County Museum's Heritage Flock meets the American Poultry Association's Standard of Perfection. According to Jim Crothers, Museum Executive Director, 'If these were dogs, they would be considered American Kennel Club Purebreds.' In 1954 the RI Red was designated as the state bird. South County Museum has maintained the Heritage Flock since 2006."

I'm there. #CluckingAdorable. $5 donation. Kids 5 and under free. July 4. 115 Strathmore St., Narragansett. Details here and here.

Advertisement

DAN MCGOWAN Lancia ends congressional campaign, clearing path for Fung to be GOP nominee in R.I.'s 2nd District

PLAY BALL!

Are you a baseball fan? Over 55? Then you just scored a homer, my friend. PACE-RI is offering free admission to the Newport Gulls game July 6 for Rhode Island residents 55 and older. (Don't feel old; Brad Pitt is 58.)

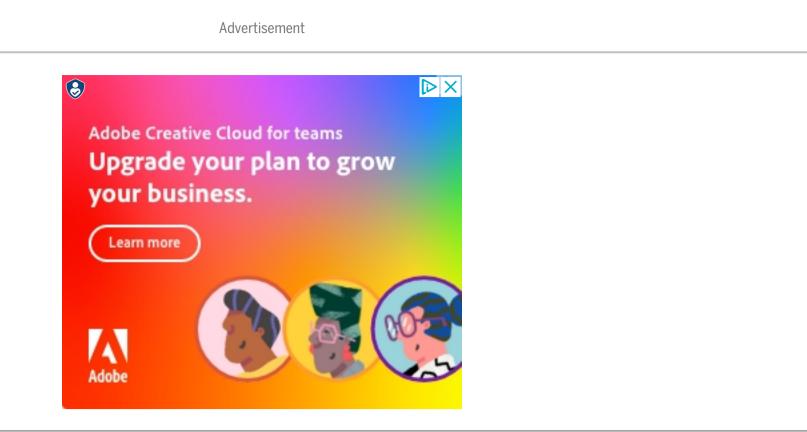

The Newport Gulls, a summer collegiate baseball team, are six-time champions of the New England Collegiate Baseball League, according to their website. On July 6, they face the Upper Valley Nighthawks from Hartford, Vermont. #GoGulls. Game is at 4:05 p.m. Bring valid Rhode Island ID. Cardines Field, 20 America's Cup Ave., Newport. Details here.

DOUGLASS IN THE GARDEN

"The fact is, ladies and gentlemen, the distance between this platform and the slave plantation, from which I escaped, is considerable... above your national, tumultuous joy, I hear the mournful wail of millions!"

These words are worth the drive, no matter where you live. Rhode Islanders are invited to listen or join a live reading of Douglass' famed 1852 speech "What to The Slave Is The Fourth of July" in the garden of Linden Place in Bristol on July 7. Audience members are invited to join in at the podium.

Douglass escaped slavery to become a lightning rod orator and thinker. He delivered this speech in Rochester, N.Y., on July 5, 1852 — some nine years before the start of the Civil War. If you can't make this reading, I urge you to read this at home. Beyond powerful. Free. 6 p.m. 500 Hope St., Bristol. Details here.

Until next week, Rhody: Keep rockin'.

Lauren Daley can be reached at Idaley33@gmail.com. Follow her on Twiiter @laurendaley1.

Design Toscano

MORE ON GLOBE.COM

SPONSORED BY: STUDIO/B Transform your home inside and out Whether it's a fresh coat of paint or a full renovation, making improvements is always a smart move.

Supreme Court limits EPA's regulation of carbon dioxide emissions from power plants By a 6-3 vote, with conservatives in the majority, the court said that the Clean Air Act does not give the Environmental Protection Agency broad authority to regulate greenhouse gas emissions from power plants that contribute to global warming.

Wu wants to bring the buzz back downtown The contract with local event planner Rosemark Production will support variety of weeknight events in Downtown Crossing, Copley Square, Dewey Square, Post Office Square, and City Hall Plaza through mid-October.

DAN SHAUGHNESSY

according to testimony

Red Sox have bounced back recently, now they just have to figure out the American League East The Sox have played seven series against AL East teams this year and lost 'em all.

presidential pardons following the Jan. 6 attack,

Here is a list of Republican lawmakers and others who insurrection at the Capitol, according to testimony revealed during the Jan. 6 hearings so far.

allegedly asked Donald Trump for a pardon following the

A potential legal bombshell in the Jan. 6 hearing that you might have missed Representative Liz Cheney disclosed samples of the outreach some witnesses received from Trump associates, messages that not-so-subtly encouraged those contacted to remain "loyal."

Biden backs changing Senate filibuster rules to President Biden said Thursday that he would support an exception to the Senate filibuster to protect access to abortion after the US Supreme Court overturned Roe v.

pass abortion, privacy protections

THE GREAT DIVIDE

Wade.

School Committee names Mary Skipper Boston's next superintendent Mary Skipper, who worked in Boston for decades before Somerville, will return to the 49,000-student district at a critical time in its history.

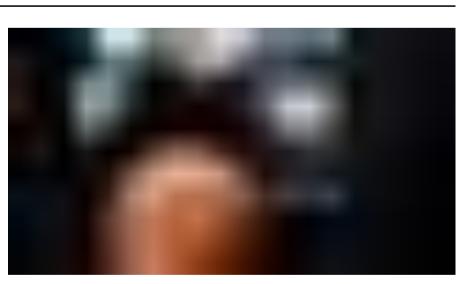

Fauci was forced to miss his daughter's wedding because he had COVID After testing positive for the coronavirus days after attending a celebratory occasion in Massachusetts, Dr. Anthony Fauci was forced to miss another: his daughter's wedding in New Orleans.

GARY WASHBURN | ON BASKETBALL The Celtics will be active players in the free agent market

With several traded player exceptions, the Celtics will be an attractive club coming off an NBA Finals appearance. But they will have competition for these players.

©2022 Boston Globe Media Partners, LLC