

THINGS-TO-DO

Virtual golf, bowling & yard games: What to expect from Spare Birdie in Cedar Park

Hannah Ortega Austin American-Statesman

Published 6:00 a.m. CT Feb. 10, 2023

Spare Birdie Public House opens in Cedar Park in February. Provided By Rick Cortez Photography

Virtual golf, string pin bowling, a full-service restaurant and more are coming to Cedar Park with the addition of the 23,000-square-foot Spare Birdie Public House.

The entertainment space soft opened at 1400 Discovery Blvd. on Feb. 1. It will host a grand opening Feb. 20. Along with the aforementioned offerings, customers can enjoy the following:

- Billiard tables
- Bocce ball
- Yard games
- Outdoor seating
- An indoor putting green
- Full alcohol bar
- Raw bar with crudos, ceviche and east coast oysters

The restaurant, described as a "full-service, chef-driven" establishment, also boasts a culinary program that helps serve up crab cakes, diced tomahawk pork chop, Norwegian salmon, pork belly lettuce wraps, jalapeño bacon jam sliders and more.

"We're so thrilled to bring such immersive, elevated entertainment to the Austin area with Spare Birdie Public House," general manager Greg Goodwin said in a statement. "There are so many facets of the space to enjoy, from the culinary program to the games and bar program, we have something for everyone. We encourage our customers to 'get lost' in the space and enjoy themselves to the fullest extent with friends and family."

Spare Birdie founders Aaron and Taylor Holmes also own and operate Goodfolks, a restaurant in nearby Georgetown. Company executive chef Justin Manzi, who heads the culinary program at Goodfolks, will now lead the culinary program at Spare Birdie, as well.

