Ah, the bachelorette party. Gone are the days when a trip to your local dive bar wearing a sash would suffice. Now finding the perfect bachelorette party destination tops many a maids' to-do list. In the age of TikTok, these girls trips have grown a lot more elaborate and, okay, expensive. It's not uncommon to pack up the bridesmaids and head to another state, maybe even a foreign country.

So, if you're the bride yourself or the lucky one in charge of planning, getting a little overwhelmed (or feeling hard-core bridesmaid burnout) is understandable. The possibilities seem nearly limitless. That's where we come in. We've scoured the globe for the absolute most fun and beautiful spots around the world that'll please every type of bride (and sate at least some of the preferences of her dynamic friend group). Read on for the best bachelorette party destinations from Austin to Amsterdam, vetted by Glamour writers.

Newport, Rhode Island

Does The Gilded Age have you a little more curious about this former playground of New York society? Newport offers far more than just tennis or yachts, however: This town on Rhode Island's "Classic Coast" is just as well known for its beautiful oceanfront views on the Cliff Walk, historic mansion tours, and the many wineries and breweries. But if you want a little taste of the town's elegant history, then definitely reserve rooms at The Vanderbilt, Auberge Resorts Collection. Housed inside the former mansion of Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, the boutique hotel has a secret bar hidden inside the parlor, newly renovated rooms, and a Champagne tower every Friday night to kick off the weekend.
