Charleston County Park and Recreation Commission Acquires Property by Sol Legare Boat Landing

[CHARLESTON COUNTY] – The Charleston County Park and Recreation Commission (CCPRC) recently acquired property adjacent to the Sol Legare boat landing on James Island.

The property is over 4 acres in size, including marsh and wetlands, with 3 acres of highland. CCPRC purchased the property with the intention to expand parking at the boat landing in the future while also protecting open space along the water's edge.

"This addition is important to CCPRC's inventory, as it represents one of the last undeveloped properties in close proximity to any of our boat landings. We will have the ability to expand this landing's parking in the future, potentially doubling its current capacity," said CCPRC Senior Planner Matthew Moldenhauer.

The Sol Legare boat landing provides boat access to the Stono River. As Charleston County's population continues to grow rapidly, the demand for parking at boat landings throughout the county is increasing as well. By expanding parking at the Sol Legare boat landing, CCPRC hopes to alleviate some of the pressure at other popular boat landings throughout the area.

The property was purchased from private owners who desired that it be available for public use and enjoyment.

CCPRC operates and maintains the Sol Legare boat landing, along with 18 other public boat landings located throughout Charleston County. For more information on the landing and for updates on the expansion, visit CharlestonCountyParks.com.

The mission of CCPRC is to improve the quality of life in Charleston County by offering a diverse system of park facilities, programs and services. The large park system features over 11,000 acres of property and includes six regional parks, three beach parks, three dog parks, two landmark fishing piers, three waterparks, a historic plantation site, a skate park, 19 boat landings, a climbing wall, a challenge course, an interpretive center, an equestrian center, cottages, a campground, a marina, as well as wedding, meeting and event facilities. CCPRC also offers a wide variety of recreational services – festivals, camps, classes, programs and much more. For more information on CCPRC, call 843-795-4386 or visit www.charlestoncountyparks.com.
