

IFC JURISDICTIONS

The unique characteristics of international financial centres mean their economies have a heavy reliance on financial services, both for the sector's contribution to local GDP and employment. This infographic explores the relationship between each jurisdiction's population size and financial industry, charting the wealthiest in terms of GDP per capita

Financial Secrecy Index
Data compiled from the US State Department, CIA, Bureau of International Narcotics and Law Enforcement Affairs, OECD