AMERICAN CONSERVATORY THEATER nurtures the art of live theater through dynamic productions, intensive actor training in its conservatory, and an ongoing dialogue with its community. Under the leadership of Artistic Director Carey Perloff and Managing Director Heather Kitchen, A.C.T. embraces its responsibility to conserve, renew, and reinvent its relationship to the rich theatrical traditions and literatures that are our collective legacy, while exploring new artistic forms and new communities. A commitment to the highest standards informs every aspect of A.C.T.'s creative work.

Founded in 1965 by William Ball, A.C.T. opened its first San Francisco season at the Geary Theater in 1967. In the 1970s, A.C.T. solidified its national and international reputation, winning a Tony Award for outstanding theater performance and training in 1979. During the past three decades, more than 300 A.C.T. productions have been performed to a combined audience of seven million people; today, A.C.T.'s performance, education, and outreach programs annually reach more than 250,000 people in the San Francisco Bay Area. In 1996, A.C.T.'s efforts to develop creative talent for the theater were recognized with the prestigious Jujamcyn Theaters Award.

Today A.C.T. is recognized nationally for its groundbreaking productions of classical works and bold explorations of contemporary playwriting. Since the reopening of the Geary Theater in 1996, A.C.T. has enjoyed a remarkable period of audience expansion and renewed financial stability. The company continues to produce challenging theater in the rich context of symposia, audience discussions, and community interaction.

The conservatory, led by Melissa Smith, now serves 3,000 students every year. It was the first training program in the United States not affiliated with a college or university accredited to award a master of fine arts degree. Danny Glover, Annette Bening, Denzel Washington, Benjamin Bratt, and Winona Ryder are among the conservatory's distinguished former students. With its commitment to excellence in actor training and to the relationship between training, performance, and audience, the A.C.T. Master of Fine Arts Program has moved to the forefront of America's actor training programs, while serving as the creative engine of the company at large.

From Darkness into the Light

_by Laird Williamson_

Once upon a time, Charles Dickens wrote “a ghost story of Christmas,” hoping to change the lives of those who read his inspirational tale. Dickens’s enchanting conjuration of ghosts was animated by a passionate concern for the gloomy condition of contemporary society in England, where the industrial revolution and economic depression had begun to manufacture an atmosphere of indifference. Social injustice was epidemic: children labored under appalling conditions, and for the most part the mass of society lived lives of grinding poverty.

Instead of writing a pedantic pamphlet intended to clarify the life of the poor to those who found themselves better off, however, Dickens launched upon a work he believed would be much more powerful. “By the end of the year,” he said in 1843, “you will certainly feel that a sledgehammer has come down with 20 times the force—20 times the force!—I could exhort by following my first idea.” He was auguring the creation of A Christmas Carol.

We cannot gauge to what degree his book assuaged the ills of Victorian society. We do know, however, that Dickens resurrected Christmas. At a time when the old holiday festivities were on the decline, he reconstructed a model for the season which embraced sparkling merriment, warm openheartedness, piping hospitality, bright fires, glowing faces, radiant spirits, flickering laughter, and a dazzling generosity. His “sledgehammer” blow was more like a warm breath thawing a frozen heart. By rekindling an almost extinguished flame, Dickens’s name forevermore was made synonymous with Christmas. And his hope that humanity’s estate could become “a warm and glowing celebration of sympathy and love” became much more than just a flickering dream.

Dickens believed that the diseases of industrial society could only be cured by a profound revolution within the individual human spirit. So Ebenezer Scrooge came to be. Scrooge epitomizes the “utilitarian man” of the age, a man whose existence is driven solely by the accumulation of wealth. He embodies the mercenary indifference of the prosperous classes who believe that their responsibility for their fellow human beings is fulfilled once they have paid their taxes. The redemption of Dickens’s seemingly irredeemable miser signals the possibility of redemption for the apparently irredeemable spirit of all humankind.

In this production of A Christmas Carol and the adaptation created for it, we have imagined Scrooge’s world to be one of shut-up boxes, cases, and cupboards—coffins of his memories, strongholds into which his feelings have long since retreated. Out of the pain of existence, Scrooge has constructed elaborate receptacles for his life. He has created his own “hiding place.” Fragments of the past are sealed in keepsake boxes; the wardrobes, shelves, and drawers have become the hosts of his psychological essence. His heart confides in no one. In the chests and caskets his secrets lie dormant. In dark coffers Scrooge’s inner life has become entombed.

The strains of an antique carol, the haunting mental image of Jacob Marley, the premonition of his own physical death, and the power of Christmas itself force Scrooge to journey inward. The locks and latches on the compartments of his memory spring open. From the aggregation of remembrances emerge the neglected wonders of human experience. His life begins to transform. Scrooge, the failed human being, is rejuvenated by encounters with impressions of his childhood. He is awed, moved, stirred by nature’s feelings he has denied for a long, long time. The marvelous joy, laughter, and pain of each illusion, the scenes of affection and brotherhood between family and friends, bring him closer to his most dreaded fear: a loveless and lonely death.

It is at the moment when Scrooge comes face to face with his imminent death that Christmas happens. Out of the primal event of light and life returning to the earth at the deadliest time of the year, Scrooge is reborn in the darkest time of his life. He becomes a child again. He sheds the shackles he formed by locking out his childhood and his youth, and by abdicating his maturity to a hostile, indifferent world. He becomes the hammering reminder of Dickens’s insistence that society has a profound responsibility for each individual life on this planet. He becomes one with all births, the embodiment of the renewal that is life. Scrooge represents the baby of whom R. D. Laing speaks, who brings the “possibility of reprieve,” who is a “potential prophet, a new spiritual prince, a new spark of light precipitated into the outer darkness.” Scrooge’s story is the essence of Christmas itself.

In Memoriam

A.C.T. announces with great sadness the passing of Eric Landisman, who died October 3 after being struck by a car during a visit to Southern California. We miss him terribly and send our prayers to his family and his many friends both inside and outside the Bay Area theater community. A distinguished scenic designer, Eric embarked this fall on his second season as supervisor of the A.C.T. Properties Shop. Before joining A.C.T., he had worked in Bay Area theater for many years, including serving as properties master for TheatreWorks and the California Shakespeare Festival.

Eric, who was 47, attended Berkeley High School and San Francisco State University. He joined the Berkeley Shakespeare Festival in 1980 and remained with that company in various capacities for 15 years before going on to teach and design scenery at the College of Marin. He had a lifelong love not only of theater but of world historical style, ranging from Louis XIV to the art of Disney. Eric was on one of his many research trips to Disneyland when he was hit in a crosswalk. The sensitivity and good humor he brought to his work at A.C.T. was an inspiration to many.

Eric is survived by his parents, Joseph and Jeanne Landisman of Berkeley, and his brother and fellow designer, Kurt, of San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Landisman have been A.C.T. subscribers since 1967, and held four seats for the family at the Geary Theater during many of Eric’s formative years. At the memorial service held at the Geary Theater on October 29, A.C.T. named an orchestra seat for Eric.

To memorialize Landisman and the hard work he put into his career, the Landisman family has set up the Eric Landisman Fund to support emerging stage designers and technicians. Tax-deductible contributions, made out to “A.C.T.—Eric Landisman Fund,” may be mailed to A.C.T., 30 Grant Ave., 6th floor, San Francisco, CA 94108. The fund will be administered by Theatre Bay Area, the local support organization of the Bay Area’s resident theater companies.

Gallery at the Geary

Find yourself with some extra time before a performance or during intermission? Want to expose yourself to more fine art, but don’t make it to art galleries as often as you’d like? Now you need look no further than the Geary Theater itself. A.C.T. invites you to visit the second floor of the theater (just outside the auditorium doors, along the north bank of windows, and by the elevator) to view original artwork by a diverse range of artists in a series of rotating exhibits throughout the 2001–02 season.

Currently on view are a recent series of small-scale paintings by George Wingate, a New York artist currently making his home on Boston’s North Shore. Wingate has exhibited extensively for the past 20 years on the east and west coasts, as well as more recently in Europe. Many of Wingate’s paintings are executed on mahogany panels only 4 x 5 inches in size. Within this limited frame, Wingate has found a scale perfectly suited to his gestural style of recording everyday objects and scenes, capturing the visual richness and inner stillness inherent in the world around us. His paintings celebrate the beauty of the commonplace and position everyday objects and landscapes in the context of our busy lives.

“I believe there is more to life than meets the eye,” says Wingate. “I am delighted to move paint around and make something that other people will recognize. However, my preoccupation has not been with picture-making, but with expression. I try to show my response to a time and a place and my excitement about the act of painting.”

There will be a reception honoring the artist at the Gallery at the Geary on January 11. Each artwork purchase benefits A.C.T. For more information about George Wingate, please contact Kevin Simmers at (415) 474-1066.
HEIDI ARMBRUSTER has most recently performed in A.C.T. M.F.A. Program productions as Francie in No for an Answer at the Zeum Theater and as Margaret in Richard III at the Eureka Theatre. Other Bay Area credits include Glady’s in The Skin of Our Teeth at the California Shakespeare Festival and Fanny in On the Verge with Class Forces Theater. Armbruster graduated from the University of Wisconsin, Madison, with degrees in English and women’s studies. She will play Laura in The Glass Menagerie at A.C.T. later this season.

JENNIFER CHARLES appeared most recently in the A.C.T. M.F.A. Program production of No for an Answer at the Zeum Theater. She appeared last spring as Mariana in the M.F.A. production of Measure for Measure at the Eureka Theatre. Other credits include The Three Sisters, The House of Atreus, The Pregnant Pause, Museum, Cyranos de Bergerac, Ten Lost Years, and Zara Spook and Other Lures.

MICHAEL CHMIEL has performed with the A.C.T. M.F.A. Program (most recently in No for an Answer at the Zeum Theater) and regionally at the California Shakespeare Festival, the Utah Shakespearean Festival, and numerous venues in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Favorite past roles include Richmond in Richard III, the Prince of Wales in the Henry VI trilogy, and Solyony in The Three Sisters.

MICHAEL GONÇALVES DAVIS, born in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, and raised in California, enjoys the best of what two cultures have to offer. He has performed in various works on the stage, from Aeschylus’s The Oresteia to Feydeau’s The Pregnant Pause to Marc Blitzstein’s No for an Answer. He is a graduate of UC Berkeley.

ROBERT ERNST last performed at A.C.T. in A Christmas Carol and Juno and the Paycock. He is a cofounder of the Iowa Theatre Lab and the Blake St. Hawkeyes. His most recent stage credits include The John, A Moon for the Misbegotten, The Late Henry Moss (replacement for Nick Nolte), Eyes for Consuela, Speed of Darkness, Kingfish, and The Joy of Going Somewhere Definite. His film and television credits include Surefire, Jumpin’ Jack Flash, Burglar, Metro, Escape from Alcatraz, “Nash Bridges,” and “Hill Street Blues.” In 1987 Ernst broke the Guinness Book world record for the longest continuous performance—by performing both set material and improvisation for twenty-four hours and one minute.
RYAN FARLEY has performed in A.C.T. M.F.A. Program productions as Paul Chase in No for an Answer, Chebutykin in The Three Sisters, Agistius in The House of Atreus, Folliquet in Tooth and Consequences, and Buckingham in Richard III. He has a B.A. from Southern Utah University with emphasis in acting, directing, and dance performance. Before attending A.C.T., he spent six years performing in regional theaters in the West.

AT THE THEATER

The Geary Theater is located at 415 Geary Street. The auditorium opens 30 minutes before curtain.

A.C.T. Merchandise

Posters, sweatshirts, t-shirts, note cards, scripts, and Words on Plays are available for purchase at the Geary Theater Box Office.

Refreshments

Bar service is available one hour before the performance in the main lobby, Fred's Columbia Room on the lower level, and the Sky Bar on the third level. You can avoid the long lines at intermission by prerdering food and beverages in the lower- and third-level bars. Food and drink are not permitted in the auditorium.

Beepers

If you carry a pager, beeper, cellular phone, or watch with alarm, please make sure that it is set to the "off" position while you are in the theater. Or you may leave it and your seat number with the house manager, so you can be notified if you are called.

Perfumes

The chemicals found in perfumes, colognes, and scented after-shave lotions, even in small amounts, can cause severe physical reactions in some individuals. As a courtesy to fellow patrons, please avoid the use of these products when you attend the theater.

Emergency Telephone

Leave your seat location with those who may need to reach you and have them call (415) 439-2990 in an emergency.

Latecomers

A.C.T. performances begin on time. Latecomers will be seated before intermission only if there is an appropriate interval.

Listening Systems

Headsets designed to provide clear, amplified sound anywhere in the auditorium are available free of charge in the lobby before performance. Please turn off your hearing aid when using an A.C.T. headset, as it will react to the sound system and make a disruptive noise.

Photographs and recordings of A.C.T. performances are strictly forbidden.

Restrooms

Restrooms are located in the lower lobby, the balcony lobby, and the uppermost lobby.

Wheelchair seating

Wheelchair seating is available on all levels of the Geary Theater. Please call (415) 749-2257 in advance to notify the house staff of any special needs.
