A Christmas Carol
...an amplifier that reaches for the essence of every recording...

If you’re reading this ad, you’re drawn to the power of music.
That gives us something in common.
I’m Rich Green, and I own The Audible Difference in Palo Alto.
For over twenty years I’ve been helping music lovers and great musicians acquire systems that bring home the emotional impact of music as you experience it live. I’ve designed personal sound systems for Luciano Pavarotti, Daniel Barenboim, Sir Georg Solti, and most recently, Michael Tilson Thomas.
The Audible Difference offers a broad range of superb audio and video equipment. For the true music lover, we recommend amplifiers from VTL (Vacuum Tube Logic). These widely acclaimed, hand-crafted amps convey vividly the emotion of music—be it a soaring soprano, a concert grand, a great orchestra to a degree matched by few components.
Nothing equals great music heard live, but we can come excitingly close. Visit The Audible Difference soon, the exclusive Bay Area dealer for VTL. We’re music lovers who love to help music lovers. We can match a VTL amplifier to speakers and source components that fit your budget, your listening space, and your taste in music—and give you the home listening experience you may have thought impossible.

AMERICAN CONSERVATORY THEATER is a Tony Award–winning repertory theater and conservatory. From the conservatory classroom to the stage of the Geary Theater, A.C.T. nurtures the art of live theater through vivid mainstage productions, intensive actor training, and a dynamic dialogue with its community. Under the leadership of Artistic Director Carey Perloff, A.C.T. artists and audiences share a commitment to the highest standards in the creation of engaging, entertaining, and compelling work worthy of the landmark theater that is A.C.T.'s home.

Founded in 1965 by William Ball, A.C.T. opened its first San Francisco season at the Geary Theater in 1967. During the past three decades, more than 300 A.C.T. productions have been performed to a combined audience of seven million people in Japan, the former Soviet Union, and the United States. In the 1970s, A.C.T. solidified its national and international reputation, winning a Tony Award for outstanding theater performance and training in 1979. Today, A.C.T.'s performance, education, and outreach programs annually reach more than 200,000 people in the San Francisco Bay Area. A.C.T.'s efforts in the commissioning and performance of new work were recognized with this season's prestigious Jujamcyn Theaters Award.

Since Perloff’s appointment in 1992, A.C.T. has enjoyed unprecedented success with groundbreaking productions of classical works and bold explorations of contemporary playwriting. In the belief that an atmosphere of constant learning engenders work that is fresh, uncompromising, and alive, A.C.T. provides a fertile ground for the growth of new and established theater artists and audiences. While looking toward the future, A.C.T. also embraces its responsibility to conserve, renew, and reinvent its relationship to the rich theatrical traditions and literatures that are our collective legacy.

From the beginning, A.C.T.'s philosophy has called for the union of superior repertory performance and intensive actor training. The conservatory, now serving 1,400 students every year, was the first training program not affiliated with a college or university accredited to award a master of fine arts degree. Danny Glover, Annette Bening, Denzel Washington, and Winona Ryder are among its distinguished former students. With the 1995 appointment of Melissa Smith as conservatory director, A.C.T. has renewed its commitment to excellence in actor training and to the relationship between training, performance, and audience, making the conservatory a vital force in the ongoing evolution of the theatrical art form to which A.C.T. is committed.
BECOME A MEMBER OF A.C.T.

Each season long-standing patrons and new subscribers alike respond enthusiastically to A.C.T.'s Annual Fund telephone drive by becoming members of A.C.T. A.C.T. members enjoy unique services and benefits, such as behind-the-scenes tours and personalized ticket-exchange privileges, while playing a pivotal role in A.C.T.'s tremendous success through their generous support.

A.C.T. MEMBERSHIP—MAKING A DIFFERENCE
A.C.T. spends nearly two-thirds of its budget on artistic, educational, and production expenses; customer service and administrative expenses represent the balance. While A.C.T.'s subscription and single-ticket income covers 70 percent of all operational costs, the Annual Fund makes up the critical difference.

Membership contributions support mainstage productions as well as a variety of culturally enriching A.C.T. educational and outreach programs, including the Student Matinee (SMAT) Program. Tickets to SMATs are offered to schools at a fraction of the normal ticket price. Your Annual Fund gift is a powerful resource for introducing young people to live theater.

MATCHING GIFTS AND DONOR BENEFITS
Depending on your level of membership, you can receive a variety of exciting special benefits, including:

- Invitations to working dress rehearsals
- Two-for-one ticket coupons
- Backstage tours of the Geary Theater
- Complimentary parking for all your subscription performances

You can receive added benefits by participating in your company's matching gift program. Many Bay Area employers, including Bank of America, Chevron Corporation, and Wells Fargo Bank, multiply their employees' charitable power by matching gifts to A.C.T. Participation is easy—simply call your personnel or corporate benefits office to receive a matching gift form and mail it to us with your contribution.

FROM DARKNESS INTO THE LIGHT

by Laird Williamson

Once upon a time, Charles Dickens wrote “a ghost story of Christmas.” His intent was to change the lives of those who read it. This conjuration of ghosts was animated by a passionate concern for the gloomy condition of contemporary society. England was in a state of economic depression. The industrial revolution had already begun to manufacture an atmosphere of indifference between man and man. Social injustice was epidemic. Children labored under appalling conditions, and for the most part the mass of society lived lives of grinding poverty.

Instead of writing a pamphlet intended to clarify the life of the poor to those who found themselves better off, Dickens launched upon a work which he believed would be much more powerful. “By the end of the year,” he wrote, “you will certainly feel that a sledgehammer has come down with 20 times the force—20 times the force! I could exert by following my first idea.” He was already auguring the creation of A Christmas Carol.

We cannot gauge to what degree the book assuaged the ills of early Victorian society. We do know, however, that Charles Dickens resurrected Christmas. At the time when the old holiday festivities were on the decline, he reconstructed a model for the season which embraced sparkling merriment, warm openheartedness, piping hospitality, bright fires, glowing faces, radiant spirits, flickering laughter, and dazzling generosity. His “sledgehammer” blow was that of a warm breath thawing a frozen heart. By rekindling an almost extinguished flame, his name forevermore was made synonymous with Christmas. And the vision that man’s estate could be “a warm and glowing celebration of sympathy and love” came closer to becoming more than a dream.

Dickens believed that the disease of society could only be cured by a profound revolution within the individual human spirit. So, Ebenezer Scrooge came to be. He epitomized the “utilitarian man” of the age, a man whose existence is impelled solely by the accumulation of wealth. He embodies the mercenary indifference of the prosperous classes who believe that their responsibilities towards their fellow man are completed once they have paid their taxes. The redemption of the seemingly irredeemable Scrooge signals the possibility of redemption of an apparently irredeemable human spirit in all mankind.

In this production and in the adaptation created for it, we have imagined Scrooge’s world to be one of shut-up boxes, cases, and cupboards—coffins of his memories, safes into which his feelings have long since retreated. Out of the pain of existence he has constructed elaborate receptacles for his life. He has created his own “hiding place.” Fragments of the past are lodged in sealed keepsake boxes; the wardrobes, shelves, and drawers have become the hosts of his psychological existence. His heart confides in no one. In the chests and caskets his secrets lie dormant. In dark coffers his inner life has become entombed.

The strains of an antique carol, the haunting mental image of Jacob Marley, the premonition of his physical death, and the power of Christmas itself force Scrooge inward. The locks and latches on the compartments of his memory spring open. From the aggregation of remembrances emerge the neglected wonders of human experience. His life begins to reform. Scrooge, the failed human being, begins to be rejuvenated by encounters with impressions of his childhood. He is awed, moved, stirred by natural feelings he has denied for a long, long time. The marvelous joys, laughter, and pain of each illusion, the scenes of affection and brotherhood between family and friends, bring him closer to his most dreaded fear: a loveless and lonely death.

It is at the moment when he is face to face with his imminent death that Christmas happens. Out of the darkest dark comes the renewal of the light. Out of the primal event of light and life re-turning to the earth at the darkest and deadest time of the year, Scrooge is reborn in the darkest time of his life. He becomes a child again. He sheds the shackles formed in growing up, in locking out his childhood, his youth, and in the abdication of his maturity to a hostile, indifferent world. He becomes the hammering reminder of Dickens’s insistence that society has a terrible responsibility for each individual life on this planet. He becomes the embodiment of the renewal that is life. He becomes one with all births. He represents the baby of whom R.D. Laing speaks, who brings the “possibility of reprieve,” who is a “potential prophet, a new spiritual prince, a new spark of light precipitated into the outer darkness.” His story is the essence of Christmas itself. *
Their Master’s Voice

by Dennis Powers

“Why don’t we do one of our own?” Laird Williamson was asking in a phone conversation on an afternoon in late August of 1976. I knew he was talking about an adaptation for the stage of A Christmas Carol. It had been his favorite subject for weeks, ever since William Ball, then general director of ACT, asked him to direct it and suggested that he start reading existing dramatizations to find one he liked.

Laird quickly discovered there was no shortage of stage scripts based on Charles Dickens’s most popular work. They came in all shapes and sizes, from one-acts to full-length versions, from straight plays to musicals, and from large-scale productions requiring huge casts to mini-adaptations in which five actors played all the parts, grooping inside a large truck that held a bewildering variety of beards, spectacles, hats, scarves, masks, and frock coats intended to “transform” the performers into Dickens’s sprawling cast of characters.

There were vague experimental versions as well as more traditional models that began with a cozy Yuletide scene in the Dickens home, where Mrs. D., gazing with practiced fondness at her bemused husband, chirps, “Oh, Charles! Do tell us a Christmas story!” Whereupon, with a puff of stage smoke and a tinkle of other-worldly music, we are transported to the chilly confines of Ebenezer Scrooge’s countinghouse.

Laird wasn’t having any of them, I gathered, and judging by the few I’d been able to wade through, I understood why. Some were shopworn or slightly synthetic. Or good scripts with a specialized approach to the story that didn’t jibe with what Laird had in mind for his production. As he was saying over the phone, fidelity to Dickens was more to the letter than to the spirit of the piece in the majority of scripts.

In short, “Why don’t we do one of our own?” Which is how we found ourselves sitting across the table from each other in the sunny kitchen of Laird’s house in the Bernal Heights area of San Francisco, facing the question that all collaborating writers eventually have to deal with: how in God’s name did we get into this? As it happened, I had been half of a writing team before, mostly on script adaptations with Ball himself, of which Cyrano de Bergerac is probably best remembered.

Dickens believed
society could only be cured
by a profound revolution in the human spirit.
Like almost everybody in the English-speaking world, I thought I knew A Christmas Carol pretty well: A tyrannical old skinflint named Scrooge pinches his pennies and browbeats his clerk, Bob Cratchit. He shows his contempt for Christmas by snarling, “Bah! Humbug!” at the drop of a hat and muttering dark imprecations about people who ought to be buried with a stake of holly through their hearts. Then, on a bitingly cold Christmas Eve, he’s visited by a squad of ghosts; his former business partner, followed by Christmas past, present, and future. From them, he learns the error of his ways and wakes up on Christmas morning a new man. Hugs and kisses all around. The end.

But as I reread the story, I became aware of what Laird had discovered. Dickens’s book, written in 1843, is not only a classic ghost story, a remarkable psychological portrait, and a metaphorical reworking of a basic Christian doctrine all rolled into one; it’s a social document as well, a scathing indictment of society’s indifference to the miseries suffered by the poor, a look at the dark side of the Industrial Revolution, a frontal attack on the social injustice that was taking on epidemic proportions amid the depressed economy of Dickens’s England.

Dickens believed the ills of society could only be cured by a profound revolution within the individual human spirit, and he hoped to spark that revolution with A Christmas Carol. He created Ebenezer Scrooge—one of the great archetypes of English fiction—as an embodiment of the "utilitarian" man of the age, a man for whom the accumulation of wealth holds life’s only meaning. Scrooge personified, too, the callous indifference of the prosperous to the plight of the penniless. Laird wrote, “The redemption of the seemingly irredeemable Scrooge signals the possibility of redemption for an apparently irredeemable human spirit.” In other words, if Scrooge can do it, anybody can.

Two points on which we agreed were, first, that we wanted to create a joyous, entertaining show with equal appeal to adults and children, and second, that we would try as far as possible in translating the work from narrative to dramatic form—to be faithful to Dickens’s intentions. In our reading of existing adaptations, one of the most dispiriting discoveries had been the extent to which some writers had scuttled the social and economic underpinnings of the story in favor of a strained bonhomie that didn’t always ring true. Our goal was to stay as close to our source as we could, either by transferring scenes from page to stage virtually intact or by finding theatrical equivalents for Dickens’s narrative methods when the latter proved unstageworthy.

We had intended to retain as much of Dickens’s dialogue as possible, but here we had to compromise. His expansive, leisurely style (partly the result of his paid-by-the-word publication deals) proved problematic for the stage. We ended up keeping key phrases and vivid images, pruning away the repetitions and condensing the rest. Along the way, we learned one of Dickens’s stylistic secrets: He had hidden away within his paragraphs a large number of iambic pentameters. Without calling attention to themselves, they gave his prose a driving rhythm and power and extra resonance. We kept as many of those as we could.

In only a single instance did we feel that the play required a scene not provided by Dickens in his story. In order to give added poignancy and drama to a scene in which the young Scrooge is rejected by his sweetheart, Belle Cousin, we wrote a lyrical scene earlier in the play in which the youthful Scrooge and Belle go ice skating at twilight, full of love for each other and hope for their future together. Because no such scene existed in
A Christmas Carol, we borrowed some dialogue from a similar scene in Dickens's Martin Chuzzlewit, augmenting it with our own interpolations.

To the adults and youngsters who come to A.C.T. this December to witness the joy and beauty and rebirth that are the meaning of the holiday we celebrate with our play, a very merry Christmas. And God bless us, every one. *

DENNIS POWERS (1936–95)

Dennis Powers, coadapter with Laird Williamson of A Christmas Carol, was one of the most beloved members of the A.C.T. company for 27 seasons. Although he left us in December 1995, his spirit lives on in the joy of the A.C.T. cast, crew, staff, and audience members who experience Dickens's enduring story in his script every Christmas.

During his almost three-decade tenure at A.C.T., Powers was intimately involved with all aspects of A.C.T. life, working as an adaptor, casting director, publications director, and associate artistic director. A skilled writer and editor, Powers served as dramaturg or adaptor on A.C.T. productions of Oedipus Rex, Cyrano de Bergerac, The Cherry Orchard, The Bourgeois Gentleman, King Richard III, The Winter's Tale, Saint Joan, and Diamond Lil. He also collaborated with Laird Williamson on Christmas Miracles, which premiered at the Denver Center Theatre Company in 1985 and was later published. Powers's reviews and articles were published widely, appearing in The New York Times, Chicago Tribune, Saturday Review, Los Angeles Times, American Arts, and San Francisco Chronicle.

Powers was much loved for his compassion, humor, and unfailing respect for the artist's voice in every person he encountered, and this season's production of A Christmas Carol is dedicated to his memory.

Come to A.C.T. for the most entertaining education in town. A.C.T. offers several ways for you to learn more about the season's productions and to express your views on the issues they raise:

A.C.T. PROLOGUES
Sponsored by the Junior League of San Francisco, these lively one-hour presentations are conducted by each show's director. Prologues are held at 5:30 p.m. in the Geary Theater. Doors open at 5 p.m.

AUDIENCE EXCHANGES
These informal, anything-goes sessions are a great way to share your feelings and reactions with fellow theatergoers. Audience Exchanges take place in the Geary Theater for 30 minutes immediately after selected performances of subscription-series plays.

A.C.T. PERSPECTIVES
This popular series of free public symposia is back in 1996-97 from 7 to 9 p.m. on selected Monday evenings in the Geary Theater. Each symposium features a panel of scholars, theater artists, and professionals exploring topics ranging from aspects of the season's productions to the intersection of theater and the arts with American culture. Everyone is welcome—you need not have seen the play to attend.

WORDS ON PLAYS
Each entertaining and informative audience handbook contains program notes, a synopsis of the play, and additional background information about the playwright and the social and historical context of the work. A subscription for seven handbooks is available by mail to full-season subscribers for $42; limited copies of handbooks for individual plays are also available for purchase at the Geary Theater Box Office, located at 405 Geary Street at Mason, and in Fred's Columbia Room, on the lower level of the Geary Theater, for $8 each.

All of which means you can now enjoy incredible sound, and still afford to order that extra topping on your pizza.
CAREY PERLOFF (Artistic Director) assumed artistic leadership of A.C.T. in June 1992. Known for directing innovative productions of classics and new works adapted from or inspired by classical works and themes, Perloff opened her first A.C.T. season with August Strindberg’s Creditors, followed by acclaimed productions of Timberlake Wertenbaker’s new translation of Sophocles' Antigone, Anton Chekhov’s Uncle Vanya, and David Storey’s Home. Her world-premiere production of Wertenbaker’s version of Euripides’ Hecuba, with Olympia Dukakis in the title role, played to 99 percent of capacity during A.C.T.’s record-breaking 1994-95 season. Last year she directed A.C.T.’s highly successful West Coast premiere of Tom Stoppard’s Arcadia and the Geary Theater inaugural production of Shakespeare’s Tempest. This season at A.C.T. she directs The Rose Tattoo, by Tennessee Williams, and the world premiere of Singer’s Boy, by Leslie Ayvazian.

In the summer of 1993, Perloff staged the world premiere of Steve Reich and Beryl Korot’s new music-theater-video opera, The Cave, at the Vienna Festival, which was subsequently presented at the Hebbel Theater in Berlin, Royal Festival Hall in London, and Next Wave Festival at the Brooklyn Academy of Music. Perloff served as artistic director of New York’s Classic Stage Company (CSC) from 1986 to 1992, where she directed the acclaimed world premiere of Ezra Pound’s version of Sophocles’ Elektra (with Pamela Reed and Nancy Marchand), the American premiere of Harold Pinter’s Mountain Language (with Jean Stapleton, David Strathairn, and Peter Riegert) on a double bill with his Birthday Party, Tony Harrison’s Phaedra Britannica, Thornton Wilder’s Skin of Our Teeth, Lynne Alvarez’s translation of Tirso de Molina’s Don Juan de Sevilla, Michael Feingold’s version of Alexandre Dumas’ Don Juan and with Kathleen Widdoes, Beckett’s Happy Days (with Charlotte Rae), Brecht’s Rehearsal of Arturo Ui (with John Turturro), and Len Jenkins’s Candide. Under Perloff’s direction, CSC won the 1988 Obie Award for artistic excellence, as well as numerous Obies for acting, design, and production.

In Los Angeles, Perloff staged Pinter’s Collection at the Mark Taper Forum (winning a Drama-Logue Award for outstanding direction) and was associate director of Steven Berkoff’s Greek (which earned the Los Angeles Drama Critics’ Circle Award for best production).

Perloff received her B.A. (Phi Beta Kappa) in classics and comparative literature from Stanford University and was a Fulbright Fellow at Oxford University. She is the proud mother of Lexie and Nicholas.

HEATHER KITCHEN (Managing Director) joined A.C.T. as managing director in November 1996. She has extensive experience in theater management and production, has served as a strategic planning consultant for arts and educational institutions, and has taught management and theater courses for more than 20 years throughout Canada. Most recently she served as general manager of The Citadel Theatre in Edmonton, Alberta, where she was responsible for a five-theater complex which produced up to 16 productions annually. Prior to her work at The Citadel, she was company manager for the Stratford Festival while on tour. Her stage management experience includes the Stratford Festival, the Canadian Stage Company in Toronto, the Canadian Opera Company, and the New Play Centre of Vancouver. She was also production manager at Theatre New Brunswick for three years. Kitchen received an honors degree in drama and theater arts from the University of Waterloo and earned her M.B.A. from the Richard Ivey School of Business at The University of Western Ontario.

POLITICALLY CORRECT?
HERE’S TO JUST BEING RIGHT.

JOHNNIE WALKER
RED LABEL
JAMES HAIRE (Producing Director) began his career on Broadway with Eva Le Gallienne's National Repertory Theater. Among the productions he managed were The Madwoman of Chaillot (with Le Gallienne, Sylvia Sydney, and Leora Dana), A Touch of the Poet (with Denholm Elliott), The Seagull (with Farley Granger), The Rivals, John Brown's Body, She Stoops to Conquer, and The Comedy of Errors. He also stage-managed the Broadway productions of And Miss Reardon Drinks a Little (with Julie Harris, Nancy Marchand, and Estelle Parsons) and Georgy (a musical by Carole Bayer Sager), as well as the national tour of Woody Allen's Don't Drink the Water. Off Broadway he produced Ibsen's Little Eyolf (directed by Marshall W. Mason) and Shaw's Arms and the Man. Haire joined A.C.T. in 1971 as production stage manager. In 1985 he was appointed production director, and in 1993 he assumed his current position. Haire and his department were awarded Theater Griffs International's award for excellence in the theater in 1989, and in 1992 Haire was awarded a lifetime achievement award by the Bay Area Theatre Critics' Circle. Haire holds a B.A. from the University of Arizona, an M.A. from the Northwestern University School of Speech, and an honorary M.F.A. from the A.C.T. Conservatory.

MELISSA SMITH (Conservatory Director), the master acting teacher in A.C.T.'s Advanced Training Program, has taught acting to students of all ages in many venues throughout the United States. Prior to assuming leadership of the A.C.T. Conservatory in June 1995, she was director of the program in theater and dance at Princeton University, where she taught acting, scene study, and Shakespeare for six years. Also a professional actor, she has performed off-off Broadway and in regional theater; her credits include Sonya in Uncle Vanya, directed by Lloyd Richards at Yale Repertory Theatre and in New York, and numerous plays including the work of Mac Wellman and David Greenspan. Smith holds a B.A. in English and theater from Yale College and an M.F.A. in acting from the Yale School of Drama. She has also trained and taught at the Caymichael Patten Studio in New York.

CRAIG SLAIGHT (Young Conservatory Director) spent ten years in Los Angeles directing theater and television before joining A.C.T. in 1988. An award-winning educator, Slaight is a consultant to the Educational Theater Association and the National Foundation for Advancement in the Arts and is a frequent guest speaker and adjudicator throughout the country. He has published eight anthologies for young actors, three of which have been selected by the New York Public Library as "outstanding books for the teenager." In 1989, he founded the Young Conservatory's New Plays Program, which has produced eleven new works by professional playwrights. Slaight has also been awarded the 1996-97 Charles MacCollinghorne Fellowship from A.C.T.'s Young Conservatory.

PAUL WALSH (Dramaturg & Director of Humanities) has extensive experience as a dramaturg, translator, and adapter. His translation of Strindberg's Creditors was directed by Carey Perloff at New York's Classic Stage Company in 1991 and at A.C.T. in 1992. His work also includes Children of Paradise: Shooting a Dream, Germinal, Don Juan Giovannini, The Hunchback of Notre Dame, and Honeymoon China at Theatre de la Junte Lune in Minneapolis, as well as projects at The Guthrie Theater, Undermain Theater, and Kitchen Dog Theater. His critical writings have appeared in numerous publications, including Theater Symposium, Essays in Theatre, The Production Notebooks: Theatre in Process, Re-interpreting Brecht, and Strindberg's Dramaturgy. Walsh received his Ph.D. from the University of Toronto's Graduate Center for the Study of Drama and has taught theater history and dramatic literature at Southern Methodist University.

MERYL LIND SHAW (Casting Director) joined the A.C.T. artistic staff in 1993. During her previous 16 years as a member of the Bay Area theater community, she stage-managed more than 60 productions, including A.C.T.'s Bon Appetit! and Creditor. She was resident stage manager at Berkeley Repertory Theatre for 12 years and production stage manager at the Berkeley Shakespeare Festival for three seasons. She also stage-managed at the San Francisco Shakespeare Festival, Eureka Theatre, Alcazar Theater, and Baltimore's Center Stage. She was active with Actors' Equity Association for many years and served on the A.E.A. negotiating committee in 1992 and 1993. Shaw's most recent casting projects include the San Francisco production of Pease at the Latin American and the forthcoming CD-ROM game Obidian. This season she also teaches in the A.C.T. Conservatory's Advanced Training Program.

ASSOCIATE ARTISTS

KATE EDMUNDS, scenic designer in residence at A.C.T., has created the sets for The Rose Tattoo, The Cherry Orchard, The Tempest, A Midsummer Night's Dream, and Hamlet. PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY

Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E) is proud to continue its support of A.C.T. by underwriting the celebrated return of A Christmas Carol to the Geary Theater. "By contributing to this production," says PG&E Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer Stanley T. Skinner, "PG&E carries on a company tradition that dates back a century and more—a tradition of helping to enrich the cultural and community life of the Bay Area we're proud to serve."

For more than 100 years, PG&E and its predecessor companies have provided natural gas and electricity services to Californians. Today, PG&E, through its subsidiaries, transports natural gas in Australia and, in partnership with Bechtel Enterprises, Inc., develops, owns, and operates power plants across the United States. PG&E also continues to develop potential investments in electricity distribution and natural gas transport markets overseas.

"Although our business horizons now extend far beyond the borders of Northern and Central California," Skinner continues, "PG&E remains focused on the needs of the communities we serve right here at home. That is why we contribute to a wide range of educational, health, and community agencies. It is also why we support A.C.T. and its many fine productions that add significantly to the Bay Area's national reputation in the arts.

"PG&E has been an integral part of Northern and Central California for a long time, and we plan to be here for many years to come," he adds. "We look forward to working with A.C.T. to help sustain the outstanding quality of life that the Bay Area offers to all who work and live here."

KGO RADIO

KGO NEWSTALK AM 810, media sponsor of A Christmas Carol, made its A.C.T. sponsorship debut with last season's Geary Theater inaugural production of The Tempest. KGO has been Northern California's most-listened-to radio station for more than 17 years, due to its commitment to the community—a commitment to provide the most complete information about world and local events, a forum for discussion, and support for arts, civic, and other nonprofit community organizations.

Each week KGO informs and entertains more than one million listeners—people who enjoy the variety, depth, and stimulating nature of newstalk programming. KGO appreciates the quality and diversity of the productions presented by A.C.T. and is proud to support the return of a San Francisco tradition.
THE CHILDREN OF

Each production of A Christmas Carol becomes a holiday home for a host of young people from the A.C.T. Young Conservatory (YC). These talented and dedicated students have the unique opportunity to extend their theatrical education by participating in a professional production, from first rehearsal to final applause.

The cast of this season's Christmas Carol includes the following students selected from the YC fall session:

Brit Adams (17), a student at J. Eugene McAteer High School, also studies vocals at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music. Natalie Bartlett (14) attends Bishop O'Dowd School; her favorite role is Ruth in A Doll House.

Jake Bern (17), a student at Berkeley High School, has performed throughout the Bay Area, including a role in the YC's Laura Dennis. Samantha Bettinger (11), a student at the Raskob Institute, has also attended the YC for the past year.

New York theater credits include The Birth of a Poet, directed by Richard Foreman for the Next Wave Festival; the New York premiere of David Ives’ Words, Words, Words, and Morticians in Love at the Perry Street Theatre. He has appeared at Yale Repertory Theatre, Baltimore Center Stage, Cincinnati’s Playhouse in the Park, Studio Arena Theatre in Buffalo, and many other regional theaters. His film work includes Hiding Out, The Manhattan Project, and Raising Arizona. Keith has taught acting in rural high schools in Vermont and New Mexico, supported by NEH grants, and has served on the faculties of Barnard College and The New School for Social Research. He is a graduate of Wesleyan University and the Yale School of Drama.

JANET KELLER* (Understudy), a member of Rough and Tumble, was recently seen in their acclaimed production of Tom Jones. Local credits also include Picnic at Marin Theatre Company; The Rivals at Berkeley Repertory Theatre; Our Town, The American Dream, and The Runners of Eldritch with Harvest Theatre Company; The Client with Kallyuga Arts; Nobody at Intersection for the Arts; Lizzie, Or Better an Oulaw and Sandy Dennis at the Maisonnettes at the SOMAR Theatre; and Ouburst!, Synergy, and In the Niche of Time with Common Threads. Keller performs this spring with Kallyuga Arts in Brad Fraser’s Poor Super Man at the SOMAR and with Rough and Tumble in Feydau’s A Flaw in the Ointment at the 450 Geary Studio Theatre.

SHIRLEY ROEOCCA* (Understudy) recently appeared at A.C.T. as Bessie in The Rose Tattoo. She also performed the role of Polyxena, opposite Olympia Dukakis, in A.C.T.’s 1995 production of Hecuba. The recipient of the Joan Sadler Professional Theater Intern Fellowship, she is a 1996 graduate of the A.C.T. Advanced Training Program, where her studio credits include Irina in The Three Sisters, Grusha Vachnadze in The Caucasian Chalk Circle, and Professor Claudia Mitchell and Dr. Gladys Stone in The Sandalwood Box. Roecca is originally from New York and is a graduate of New York University.

LAIRD WILLIAMSON (Coadjutor and Original Director) staged A.C.T.’s productions of The Matchmaker (which toured the U.S.S.R.), Sunday in the Park with George, End of the World with Symposium to Follow, The Imaginary Invalid, A Month in the Country, The Visit, and Pondgeleere. He has worked extensively with the Oregon Shakespeare Festival and the PCPA Playfest, where he directed award-winning productions of The Physicists, Blood Wedding, and Indians. He has directed Don Pasquale and The Portuguese Inn for Western Opera Theatre, Elektra for the Intiman Theatre, and Sunday in the Park with George for the Seattle Repertory Theatre, and he has been a guest director at the Brooklyn Academy of Music Theater Company. For the Denver Center Theatre Company, he has directed Julius Caesar, Galileo, Saint Joan, The Matchmaker, Coriolanus, Pericles, and Wings. Williamson’s most recent directorial credits include Arcadia for the Denver Center, All’s Well That Ends Well and Lest’s Lost for the Shakespeare Theatre in Washington, D.C., Othello for The Guthrie Theatre, and Two Gentlemen of Verona and Twelfth Night for San Diego’s Old Globe Theatre.

CANDACE BARRETT (Director) appeared in numerous productions as a member of the A.C.T. acting company from 1973–80, including Cyrano de Bergerac, Equus, Peer Gynt, and A Christmas Carol. She has also acted and directed with Milwaukee Repertory Theatre, the Pacific Conservatory for the Performing Arts, and the Oregon Shakespeare Festival. Director of the A.C.T. Young Conservatory from 1975–1980, she is currently associate director of the Los Angeles Children’s Museum and director of The Children’s Theatre Center. She has also taught acting and directing at Southern Methodist University, San Francisco State University, and the University of Southern California. Barrett is the recipient of numerous awards for her theater work for children.

W. FRANCIS WALTERS* (Understudy) has worked extensively in regional theater, including productions at the Denver Center Theatre Company, Oregon Shakespeare Festival, Cleveland Playhouse, Old Globe Theatre, Arizona Theatre Company, and Asolo State Theatre. Bay Area theater credits include the San Francisco Shakespeare Festival, Marin Theatre Company, Magic Theatre, and Berkeley Repertory Theatre. Walters appeared most recently in Berkeley Rep’s productions of An Ideal Husband and Changes of Heart.
ROBERT BLACKMAN (Scenery) was in residence at A.C.T. from 1971 to 1977, designing costumes or scenery for more than 35 productions. He has since designed for all of the major resident theaters in the West, including Seattle Repertory Theatre, the Oregon Shakespeare Festival, Berkeley Repertory Theatre, the Denver Center Theatre Company, the Pacific Conservatory of the Performing Arts, the Ahmanson Theatre, the Los Angeles Theatre Center, South Coast Repertory, the Old Globe Theatre, La Jolla Playhouse, and the Mark Taper Forum. Now in Los Angeles, he designs primarily for film and television and is the costume designer for “Star Trek: Deep Space Nine” and “Star Trek: The Next Generation,” for which he received an Emmy Award.

ROBERT MORGAN (Costumes) has designed costumes and/or scenery for the New York stage, PBS, and many regional theaters. He designed the costumes for 22 productions during nine seasons at A.C.T., and for 23 productions during 12 seasons as a founding associate artist at the Old Globe Theatre in San Diego. Broadway credits include the costume designs for I’m Not Rappaport, Sherlock’s Last Case, and The Loves of Anatole, and television credits include the American Playhouse production of The Skin of Our Teeth. Theater credits also include designs for the Ahmanson Theatre, the Huntington Theatre Company, The Guthrie Theater, the Kennedy Center, the McCarter Theatre, Seattle Repertory Theatre, and Studio Arena Theatre. He is currently working on the costumes for Tina Howe’s new play, Pride’s Crossing, and A Moon for the Misbegotten, both of which will open in San Diego in 1997. Morgan has received numerous awards, including six Los Angeles Drama-Logue Awards and a Los Angeles Drama Critics’ Circle Award.

LEE HOBY (Composer) was most recently composer-in-residence at the 1996 Santa Fe Chamber Music Festival, for which he wrote Rain Forest, a new work set to poems by Elizabeth Bishop. In November, the Dallas Opera presented a major new production of Hoby’s opera The Tempest, which was originally performed in 1986 by the Des Moines Metro Opera. He has also written several other operas, including The Scarf, presented at the inaugural season of the Spetoli Festival (Italy) in 1958; A Month in the Country, commissioned and performed by the New York City Opera; and Summer and Smoke, commissioned by the St. Paul Opera and performed by the Chicago Opera Theater on PBS. He is also well known for his vocal music, which includes numerous songs, chamber operas, choral works, and compositions for solo voice with orchestra. Leontyne Price has regularly performed many of Hoby’s works, and he has in turn published a collection entitled Songs for Leontyne. Hoby’s instrumental compositions include two piano concertos and a flute concert, as well as various works for winds, strings, and organ.

JIM LAHTI (Musical Director) has been a composer and musical director for diverse productions in the Bay Area and New York City for the past 20 years. Also an actor, he was seen most recently as Mr. Ames in the Berkeley Actors Ensemble production of A Chorus of Disapproval. He was also the musical director of Tell Me on a Sunday in A.C.T.’s Hastings Studio. The recipient of a New York State Council on the Arts grant for a chamber music composition, he also recently completed a requiem mass for orchestra, chorus, and soloists using poetry by Robert Mitchell. Lahti is also the music specialist at the Jewish Community for the Aged in San Francisco.

EMILY KEELER (Movement Consultant) returns to A.C.T. where she worked on George Coates’s Right Mind. She has worked for 22 years as a dancer, choreographer, and educator in the Bay Area and New York. She danced with the San Francisco Moving Company, Cliff Keuter’s New Dance Company, and the Joe Goode Performance Group. She is a four-time recipient of an NEA choreographic fellowship and has created works for Joffrey Dancers, DanceArt Company, and Oakland Ballet, among others. For the last 12 years she has been the artistic director of the San Francisco Arts Education Project, which places artists in year-long residencies in San Francisco schools.

ANGENE FEVERS (Feettiwig Dances Choreographer) specializes in historical dance and movement. She has choreographed the dances for A.C.T.’s Christmas Carol since its first performance in 1976. Other credits include Way of the World at Berkeley Repertory Theatre; Romeo and Juliet, A Midsummer Night’s Dream, and Two Gentlemen of Verona at the Oregon Shakespeare Festival; and A Midsummer Night’s Dream at the PCPA Theaterfest. Recent credits include choreographing and stage directing Le Ballet des nations (incidental music and dances from Molière’s Le Bourgeois gentilhomme) using original 17th-century sources. She was also the stage director for the U.S. premiere of the children’s opera The Snow Queen. Other historical stagings include Mozart’s ballet Les Petits riens, Homage to Lully, and Pyländer & Mirtilia. She performed on fundraising tours for the Globe Theatre in London and teaches workshops in the United States and Europe. In July 1997 Fever will teach historical dance at the San Francisco Early Music Society.

D. F. DRAPER (Costume Coordinator) has designed the costumes for A.C.T. productions of Joe Turner’s Come and Gone, The Cocktail Hour, Oleanna, and Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead, for which he won a Bay Area Theatre Critics Circle Award. Local design credits also include Waiting for Godot at Shakespeare Santa Cruz and independent productions of Song of Singapore, Hitting for the Cycle, and Babes in Arms. He has also designed for the Minneapolis Children’s Theatre Company, Annapolis Opera, Baltimore Ballet, Peabody Opera Theatre, and Baltimore Actors’ Theatre. He was the designer-in-residence for six years at Balto School for the Arts before he joined A.C.T. as costume director in 1988.

DONNA ROSE FLETCHER* (Stage Manager) was the stage manager at A.C.T. last season for The Matchmaker, A Galaxy on Geary (celebrating the reopening of the newly renovated Geary Theater), and Gaslight, as well as for the 1994–95 production of Angels in America. She has also stage-managed numerous productions for Berkeley Repertory Theatre and the California Shakespeare Festival. She spent five years with the original off-Broadway production of Little Shop of Horrors and codirected the French company of La Petite boutique des horreurs, which ran for a year in Paris.

MICHELE M. TRIMBLE* (Assistant Stage Manager) has worked on A.C.T.’s productions of Shemuel the First, The Matchmaker, The Cherry Orchard, Arcadia, How to Play the Thing, and A Christmas Carol in 1993. Last season she also worked with San Jose Repertory Theatre on Mirandolina. Other stage-management credits include Marin Shakespeare Company’s Richard III and Much Ado about Nothing.

MARTIN D. REUTER (Assistant Director) spent last summer as an assistant directing intern for Henry V and Henry VI, Parts 1, 2, and 3 with the California Shakespeare Festival and was the scenic designer for the Fairfield City Arts production of The Wizard of Oz. Other assistant directing credits include Camino Conftusion/Confusion Street at S.F. State University, A Perfect Genesh at Marin Theatre Company, and Good Night Texas for Shakespeare on the Beach. Last season he directed, designed, and built the set for The Prisoner of Second Avenue, for which he was nominated for best direction and set design by The Solano County Arts, and directed Nunsense.

FRANK RENLIE (Cover Artist), a Seattle-based graphic illustrator and art director, has illustrated numerous publications, and his work has appeared at universities and corporations, as well as in books and theaters. Renlie also paints and sculpts and teaches on the faculty of Seattle’s School of Visual Concepts.

WAYS OF GIVING TO A.C.T.

There are many exciting and creative ways to give gifts to A.C.T.—all of which are tax deductible. A.C.T. accepts:

- Cash—one of the most familiar ways to give;
- Stocks, Bonds, and Mutual Funds—these make excellent gifts, especially if they have appreciated in value;
- Property—both real estate and personal property qualify as tax-deductible charitable gifts; and
- Life Insurance—the cash value of your current or paid-up life insurance policy can benefit A.C.T.

Planned Giving

Many people who could not otherwise give to A.C.T. as generously as they would like find they are able to do so with a carefully planned gift. You can make a valuable long-term contribution to great theater by:

- Making a Bequest to A.C.T.—please let us know if you have included A.C.T. in your will or estate plans; or
- Creating a Life Income Charitable Trust with A.C.T.—by making a life income gift to A.C.T., you can gain: an immediate and substantial tax deduction, an increased annual income paid to you for life, freedom from investment worries, and avoidance of capital gains taxes when you transfer appreciated property to a charitable remainder trust.

If you would like to find out more about giving to A.C.T., please contact:

CELEBRATE THE SEASON WITH A.C.T.

In conjunction with the long-awaited return of A Christmas Carol to the Geary Theater, A.C.T. invites you to celebrate the spirit of the season with a variety of programs designed to bring the good cheer of Dickens’s holiday classic to as many theatergoers, of all ages, as possible.

There’s fun for the entire family as A.C.T. kicks off the festivities with Christmas Caroling Parties following selected matinees. Sip some hot cider, sing a few carols with the cast, and pick up bonus copies of your stocking on December 7, 14, 15, 19, 23, and 26 in Fred’s Columbus Room (in the lower lobby of the Geary Theater). For information and tickets ($7 per person), please call the A.C.T. Box Office at (415) 749-2ACT.

The December 5 evening performance of A Christmas Carol is a Bring What You Can/Pay What You Wish show, at which patrons may pay any amount for tickets when they bring in canned cranberry sauce and boxed stuffing mix as donations to Project Open Hand’s food drive. Thanks to a generous grant from The Capital Group Companies, the Thursday evening performance following the opening night of each production of A.C.T.’s 1996–97 season has also been designated a Pay What You Wish performance.

Tickets for the December 5 Pay What You Wish performance go on sale at the Geary Theater Box Office at noon on the day of the show and must be purchased with cash.

Patrons
are limited to one ticket per donated item, two tickets per person. At least 100 tickets will be made available for each designated performance. Other Pay What You Wish performances this season are on January 9 (Travels with My Aunt), February 13 (Mushael), March 27 (The Royal Family), May 8 (Singer's Boy), and June 19 (Mrs. Warren's Profession).

The Capital Group Companies have also underwritten an American Sign Language-interpreted performance of A Christmas Carol on December 8. Tickets for deaf and hearing-impaired theatergoers and their companions are available at a special discounted price of $19. Patrons using a TDD should call the California Relay Service for the Deaf at (800) 735-2929 for assistance.

Winter Session at the A.C.T. Conservatory

Now is the time to sign up for courses in the A.C.T. Conservatory!

Studio A.C.T. offers a wide range of evening and weekend classes in the dramatic arts to people 18 and older, at all levels of interest and experience. Courses include scene study, audition technique, voice and speech, directing for actors, Shakespearean, musical theater, playwriting, singing, improvisation, and beginning to advanced acting. The ten-week winter session begins January 6, 1997. For enrollment information and application materials, call (415) 834-3286.

The Young Conservatory is now accepting applications for its winter/spring session, which begins on February 18 (orientation takes place the week of February 8). The Young Conservatory offers theater training for young people 8 to 18 years old, including classes in acting, directing, voice and speech, musical theater, performance workshops, audition, and improvisation. A newly commissioned adaptation of The Snow Queen, by Lynne Alvarez, will be featured in the Young Conservatory's renowned Senior Performance Workshop. Call (415) 439-2444 for applications and information.

A.C.T. WELCOMES NEW BOARD TRUSTEES

During the past year, several prominent theater lovers have joined the A.C.T. board of trustees, which has expanded considerably in recent seasons. As the governing body of A.C.T., the board is responsible for the overall artistic, educational, and financial integrity of the organization. In addition to approving the A.C.T. annual operating budget and holding responsibility for major hiring, the trustees collectively review and approve policies to further A.C.T.'s artistic and educational mission, and serve as A.C.T.'s custodians for the benefit of the Bay Area community.

The board, which is currently comprised of 37 dedicated individuals, is guided by the expert leadership of Chairman Alan L. Stein and President Toni Rembe. Their fellow officers include Toby Schreiber, who was elected treasurer in September and chairs the board’s finance committee, and secretary Joan McGrath, who has been an A.C.T. trustee for many years.

“This is a unique moment in A.C.T.'s history,” says Artistic Director Carey Perloff. “As we are exploring the company’s artistic life back in the Geary Theater and revitalizing our conservatory programs, the board is also experiencing an invigorating period of expansion and transformation. Our new trustees, with their diverse backgrounds and areas of expertise, will help A.C.T. broaden its vision and discover opportunities for continued growth in the future.”

Introducing the newest members of the A.C.T. board of trustees:

Ann S. Bowers is the operating trustee and investment director of the Noyce Foundation, which is devoted to encouraging improvements in public school systems. She also serves on the board of the Silicon Valley Joint Venture Education Initiative. Bowers was formerly an executive at Intel and Apple.

Diana Dalton has been involved with A.C.T. for many years as a fundraiser and has chaired several A.C.T. events, most notably the Directors Dinner at The Pan Pacific Hotel preceding last season’s Galaxy on Geary celebration and last year’s luncheon with Olympia Dukakis.

Kaatje Grigg has served as president of the board of San Francisco Day School and as a trustee of the California Pacific Medical Center. She and her husband, Douglas, have been committed to A.C.T. as subscribers.

Jonathan D. Joseph is a partner at Pillsbury Madison & Sutro LLP, one of the nation's leading law firms, where he specializes in corporate finance, mergers and acquisitions, and financial services. He is also a member of the executive committee of A.C.T.'s affiliate social and educational group, ACT 1.

Peter A. Levine brings to A.C.T. his unique dual theater experience as an actor and a talent agent. Levine appeared in several off-Broadway plays, including productions at the New York Shakespeare Festival, before joining the William Morris Agency in Los Angeles, where he has been a talent agent since 1994.

Philip S. Schlein is a returning trustee to A.C.T.'s board, on which he served from 1987 to 1992. An investment executive with U.S. Venture Partners, he was previously president and CEO of Macy's California for 11 years.

Cathy J. Simon is the director of architecture and one of the five founding principals of the San Francisco-based architecture/interior design/planning firm Simon Martin-Vegoe Winkelman Morris. She has contributed dramatically to San Francisco's recent cultural renewal with designs for the San Francisco Main Library and the Yerba Buena Gardens Entertainment/Retail Complex. She is also an adjunct professor of architecture at UC Berkeley.

Ruthellen Toole was involved with the computer industry for many years and served as vice president of product management at Bank of America before starting her own computer company.

JOIN THE DIRECTOR'S CIRCLE AT A.C.T.

This season A.C.T. introduces a new way for you to get behind the scenes of great theater: the A.C.T. Director's Circle. Benefactors who contribute at least $2,500 to the 1996-97 Annual Fund become members of the Director's Circle and receive a wide variety of special opportunities related to this season's production of Mrs. Warren's Profession. Among the benefits you receive as a distinguished member of the Director's Circle are invitations to exclusive events, including the production's first in-house design presentation, selected studio rehearsals, and cast receptions, as well as a prominent listing in the show's program as a production cosponsor.

For details on benefits and to find out how to join the A.C.T. Director's Circle, please call Genice Jacobs in the A.C.T. Development Department at (415) 439-2333.

ACT 1 GETS IN THE ACT

ACT 1, the social and educational affiliate group for young professionals formed last year by A.C.T. Trustee Julie Stein, is off and running for its second season. With more than 150 members, ACT 1 has become a vital part of the A.C.T. family.

Membership in ACT 1 for the 1996-97 season includes a three-play subscription to Shlemiel the First, Travels with My Aunt, and The Royal Family. A preshow mixer is held before each performance, offering hors d'oeuvres at elegant restaurants near the Geary Theater before members accompany each other to the evening's production. It's not too late to join the fun: the party for Travels with My Aunt will be held at 6:30 p.m. at the Hotel Monaco before the January 22 performance, and the Royal Family event will take place on April 2. If you are already an A.C.T. subscriber and want to become a member of ACT 1, you can easily reschedule your performance dates by calling the A.C.T. Box Office at (415) 749-2ACT.

ACT 1 also hosts special events for the benefit of the A.C.T. Conservatory. Last season's superlative Comedie Night at the Geary was attended by more than 700 people and grossed more than $15,000 toward the ACT 1 Conservatory Scholarship Fund. This season plans are in the works for other delightful activities to be announced.

To get in the act with ACT 1, call Julie Stein at (415) 393-9666.

Your Table Is Ready

Now you can reserve the best seats in the house—at intermission. Just stop by the bar in Fred's Columbia Room or the beautiful Sky Lobby any time during the hour before curtain to order fine spirits, coffee, and snacks in advance. Your order will be waiting for you at a reserved table, where you can enjoy the pleasures of intermission at your leisure.

In truth, you don’t get into a Lincoln Continental. It gets into you. The meticulously detailed leather and wood-trimmed cabin will soothe you while the 32-valve InTech® v8 engine will invigorate your spirits. In fact, Continental is engineered to make a lasting impression in every area but one: your finances. For a free brochure call 1 800 446-8888, or visit http://www.lincolnvehicles.com.
