Notes on Expiring Markets

- Non-cash markets (such as USOILJUN7) have a fixed expiry date, as detailed above.
- Any positions remaining at contract expiry will be closed on the last trading day, as per the instructions above.
- ADSS will attempt to contact any client with an open position prior to the contract's expiration to let them know the product will soon expire.
- Clients do, however, have the ability to roll their position from the front month into the next month.
- ADSS will make available for trading the following contract month on the platform before the front month expires (except oils which will run two months simultaneously).
- Clients may contact ADSS and, at any point during trading hours, request to roll their position over the phone. Clients will be closed at
- Clients must realise their profit/loss on the front month position when rolling.
- If a client has insufficient funds to roll their position, then they must deposit funds in order to do the roll.

CFDs are complex instruments and come with a high risk of losing money rapidly due to leverage. 76% of retail investor accounts lose money when trading CFDs with this provider. You should consider whether you understand how CFDs work and whether you can afford to take the high risk of losing your money. Professional clients can lose more than they deposit.
