Ohio Gov. Mike DeWine on Wednesday announced a novel incentive program for people in his state to get vaccinated — a $1 million lottery.

DeWine, a Republican, said only people who've gotten the vaccine will be eligible to win the prize which will be paid for by federal coronavirus funds.

"Two weeks from tonight on May 26th, we will Wednesday will receive one million dollars,"DeWine said in a series of tweets.

"To be eligible to win, you must be at least 18 years of age or older on the day of the drawing. You must be an Ohio resident. And, you must be vaccinated before the drawing," he added.

He acknowledged the incentive might strike some people as a waste of money, but he said he disagreed.

available to anyone who wants it — is a life lost to COVID-19," he wrote.

While the cash is for Ohioans 18 and older, he also added an incentive for younger residents — they'll be entered into a drawing "for a four-year full scholarship to any of Ohio's state colleges and universities, including full tuition, room, and board," he announced.

DeWine revealed the incentives alongside the news that he's asked the Ohio Department of Health to lift most pandemic health orders on June 2.

"It is time to end the health orders. It's been a year. You've followed the protocols. You've done what we've asked. You've bravely fought this virus," he said in a statement.
