

J6 FAMILY QUOTES

- 1 The 1512 charge against my spouse has plunged our family into a state of uncertainty and fear. However, amidst the turmoil, we hold onto hope that the Supreme Court will recognize the complexities of the situation and deliver a just outcome. Our family's faith in the American legal system has been lost, and we pray for a resolution that restores peace and stability to our lives.
- 2 Witnessing my sibling grapple with the 1512 charge has been an emotional rollercoaster for our family. Despite the challenges, we cling to the belief that the Supreme Court will carefully consider all factors involved and ultimately overturn this charge.
- 3 The 1512 charge against my dad has shaken our family to its core. Our family stands united, rallying behind my dad with unwavering faith that the truth will prevail and the Supreme Court will do the right thing based on the evidence.
- 4 As we navigate the aftermath of my child's involvement in the January 6th events, our family's hope lies in the hands of the Supreme Court. The weight that the 1512 charge carries in sentencing guidelines is what is keeping defendants incarcerated for so long. We draw strength from the possibility of a favorable outcome that will allow us to heal and rebuild our lives together.
- 5 The 1512 charge against my loved one has plunged our family into a state of turmoil and uncertainty. With every passing day, we remain steadfast in our belief that justice will prevail, bringing much-needed relief and closure to our family. There is a long road ahead but with the Supreme Court being our last hope in this justice system, we will keep the faith. We pray that the Supreme Court judges see the truth in what is happening not only to my loved one, but many American citizens across America.
