The Stone Store Policy on Product Returns

These policies pertain to The Stone Store.

The Stone Store considers product returns to result from one of three possible occurrences.

1. Quality issues
2. Order processing or shipping errors.
3. Customer accommodations.

Product Quality Issues:

While it is always our intention to ship only quality merchandise, we realize that off quality product may occasionally be shipped unintentionally. We will rectify product quality problems as quickly as possible with minimal inconvenience to a customer. However, we reserve the right to verify that a true quality problem exists and not just a difference of opinion. In the event of a return due to quality issues, we will first verify the complaint through any means necessary with the final decision being made by an authorized Stone Store Manager and sales representative. We realize that verification of the complaint may take time and we are prepared to ship replacement product as soon as possible. The suspect product may be returned later, if verified, or not returned if the complaint is not verified. In instances involving verified complaints, The Stone Store may bear the return freight expenses, if applicable.

Order Processing and Shipping Errors:

Requested returns, as a result of order processing or shipping errors, will be handled immediately in a manner that minimizes the expense and inconvenience of the customer.

Customer Accommodations:

Returns requested by the customer based on no fault of The Stone Store will not automatically be accepted although there will be instances in which it is appropriate to consider some requests. After reviewing factors including but not limited to inventory levels, space, pending purchase orders for similar material, and the customer's credit status, a determination to accept or deny these requests will be made. Restocking fees will apply. No accommodation returns will be accepted for non-stock, special order or custom made products.

The Stone Store does not accept returns after 30 days of invoice date.

Return Authorization Number / Credit Memo

If an item is deemed returnable The Stone Store sales representative will issue you a Return Authorization number / Credit Memo. This Credit will be offset to the original invoice, issue credit to credit card, return via check or a Stone Store Gift Card. If material is being picked up by The Stone Store, our driver will have the RA/ Credit memo and this must be signed off by the customer upon pick up of material. Material will not be picked up without a Return Authorization / Credit Memo in hand by The Stone Store driver or the customer.
