

Gyromorphs

are exciting new correlated disordered structures with seemingly incompatible geometric qualities that achieve unique optical properties

This pattern was generated by imposing 60 peaks in its Structure Factor but creating as few other correlations
as possible

Each point has an isotropic neighborhood the size of this disk, but 60 regularly spaced neighbors around its edge as seen in its pair correlation function

Mathias Casiulis^{1,2}
Aaron Shih^{2,3}
Stefano Martiniani^{1,2,3}

1. Simons Center for Comp. Phys. Chem., Dept. of Chemistry, NYU
2. Center for Soft Matter Research, Dept. of Physics, NYU
3. Courant Institute of Mathematical Sciences, NYU