| Received | 07/07/2026 12:08:17 PM | william linebarger (+14434 699379) | The best is $122, and the water bill is $64. Together, that comes to $186. Half of that amount is $ 93. The reason I didn't send you the water bill is because I did not receive it until yesterday. The water bill has a minimum amount every month of $64. Even if no water is being used, the city will still charge $64. Next time, if the water bill is late, just leave the check, and I will send you a picture of it when I get it. |

| Sent     | 07/07/2026 12:15:45 PM | william linebarger (+14434 699379) | Hi, I need to see the actual water bill before I pay it. I won't pay without seeing the actual bill first. You misled me about the correct amount to pay the very first month, and I haven't forgotten. I also don't believe you about the amount the water bill will be "no matter what" because you've said a higher amount before and then the water bill ended up being lower than what you claimed was the minimum amount. So, at this point, yes, I require actual verification of the charges. If you really need the rent early I could leave a check for the rent + bge and leave the water bill off. But since it seems to come early in the month anyway, it probably makes more sense to just wait until you know the actual correct amount and can send me proof. |

But I will look for the original water bill and find out.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
