Retreat Master Fr. Joe Simmons, SJ
An Ignatian, Silent Overnight Retreat for Young Adults

At a time when our attention is what is for sale, people feel understandably adrift from God, others, and themselves. In this retreat for “busier-than-I’d-like” young adults, Fr. Joe Simmons will offer points and Ignatian tools for how to reground our spiritual life in God. Ideal for 25-45 year olds whose spiritual flame is flickering.

Meet Fr. Joe Simmons, SJ

Fr. Joe Simmons, SJ, from Milwaukee, studied languages and theology at Marquette University. He volunteer-taught for two years before entering the Jesuits in 2006. Fr. Simmons studied philosophy at Loyola University and theology at Boston College. In between, he volunteered with Jesuit Refugee Services in the Middle East, worked in several Jesuit high schools, and taught philosophy at Creighton University. Fr. Joe has written and edited for the Jesuit Post, and has given retreats on the Spiritual Exercises around the country. He was ordained in June 2017 and is pursuing a doctorate in theology and literature at the University of Oxford.
