

Exercise C11.2: Sentences to translate into Latin

1. The soldiers ought to fight boldly although it will be difficult to overpower the enemy.
2. At first the sailors did not want to depart because it was not safe to sail.
3. When those children were being praised, these parents were smiling most happily.
4. That fortunate slave, having been called into the house, was set free by his master.
5. Who is being punished because our town was destroyed?
6. Is that woman, who goes to the temple rather often, loved by the goddess?
7. He said that the boat was strong but the journey was difficult.
8. The leader of the soldiers ordered his men to flee quickly. However, soon they were being overpowered.
9. The captured children are being fiercely guarded by their captured mothers.
10. Having been saved by their mothers, the boys and girls at last ran from the conquered town.