

I am sorry, more sorry than I can say Mr. Shell is dead and that I'm responsible. I feel sorry for Mrs. Shell and all of Mr. Shell's family and friends. I feel sorry for my mother, my family and everyone else who will grieve for me. I have asked God to forgive me. . . .
I have to say that what you are doing is wrong. If I thought my death would bring back Mr. Shell or would save someone else from a murder I would volunteer, but I know it won't. You don't teach respect for life by killing. I urge you not to kill anyone else. I ask God to forgive you for killing me. I now ask God in the name of Jesus to receive my spirit.
