

Mom and Dad,

I love you and have through everything. No offense, but please do not try to understand me to every extent because as far as I can tell some things were still a mystery to you. You two did the best you could and I thank you for doing as much as you did. Please don't think people are always out to get you. It brings you down and sometimes being a little naive helps.

Thank you for being there when I needed you. Please be kind to Nanny and Poppy, you wouldn't believe the things they've done for me. Let [Name] know I love her and if it had come down to it I would have taken a bullet for her.

I love you two. Don't forget it. I'm sorry this is short.
