

I've done a lot of wrong, caused a lot of hurt. I guess this is the price I pay for it. I found God in Christ. I made a commitment with him. I'm ready to see this through. There are those out there who need help. I wish in some way you could all contribute to helping them. Living has been hard for me and its time for me to die, for whatever reason I hope you will not leave with the sense this is going to deter crime. That's it, let's go.
