

Bobbie,

I think it is important that I leave you with my true feelings about you. Simply put - I love you. This despite any/all every foolish & immature utterance I have demonstrated over the years. In my hear there always has been love. Please embrace this & never question that I loved my little sister.

I am very happy to have seen for myself the special person you hav become I envy your happy-go-lucky attitude & the bounty of friendship which have constantly surrounded you throughout your life. Fortunate fortunate you!

You need to be strong for Mom. Help her in any way possible. Also you must comprehend there was no way out I.E. "exit strategy" for me other than the one I have chosen here. As you read this letter (probably repeated in time) - know I am at peace. With complete certainty I believe Dad is standing watch - prepared to guide me into the light.

I will see you & Mom again someday. Rest assured if possible. I will watch over each of you from the other side.

Until we see each other again,

Love Always,
