Cuisine	Food is charged with all sorts of personal, familial and cultural symbolism.	To what extent does our lifestyle influence our diet? Why does eating together matter?	I can identify eating habits between cultures through gestures, images and phrases to someone else unfamiliar with them.	I can compare dishes served in schools from other countries to others and clarify details that may be new for someone else.	I can make dietary preferences between cultures accessible to someone unfamiliar with them and explain concerns.
Health	Health depends on many factors, including our habits, culture, diet, and lifestyle. Health is a combination of mind, body, and spirit.	What is good health? How do culture, media and lifestyle affect health?	I can identify common remedies across cultures to someone unacquainted with these products.	I can compare health practices across cultures for people unaccustomed to them.	I can explain to someone unaware of remedios caseros why a culture chooses some remedies and practices over others.
