

Review Questions

Chapter 4: Collection Use and Statistics for Collection Developers

1. Why does Disher say it's important to collect data about a library collection?
2. What are the limitations of circulation statistics?
3. Name and describe the 3 measurements developed by the US Accounting Standards Board.
4. Name the 3 types of collections listed in this chapter.
5. Which formulas and measurements are given as examples of the most useful pieces of statistical data gathered by collection developers?
6. What does Disher say you should consider when reporting statistics?