

Example CV 9: A template for a good academic CV

CVs for research or teaching roles within academia generally have a third page, which typically list the publications you've worked on and any conferences you've attended. An academic CV format is shown below.

John Smith

Address: 23 Sykes Street
Huddersfield
HD4 2GP

Mobile: 07500 6543 43
Email: j.smith@hitmail.com
Tel: 07940 567 294

Education

'22–Present Name of university, title of PhD, supervisor's name and submission date

- Briefly outline your thesis relating it to the post you're seeking. Mention any relevant collaboration with academic departments and industry.
- Consider bullet points to highlight key points.
- Keep things short and easy to read in a rush.

2020–2022 Name of university, title of original postgrad qualification (if you took one) and grade
Outline modules and/or dissertation relating it to the post-doc vacancy.

2017–2020 Name of university, title of undergraduate qualification and grade
Outline modules and/or dissertation relating it to the post doc vacancy.

2010–2017 Name of Secondary School and the town/city
Briefly list your qualifications and grades (summarise your GCSEs).

Research interests

A couple of paragraphs on your research interests (linking them to the vacant research post).

Carry on outlining your research interests (linking them to the vacant research post).

Relevant Experience

Summer
2023

Role title
Name of department and university

Provide a brief synopsis of your research, teaching and administrative responsibilities. Outline what the work involved and what you achieved. For example, describe any novel approaches you applied and any publications you were involved with. Focus on the technical and transferable skills you gained that are relevant to the job you're seeking.

Summer
2022

Role title
Name of department and university

Provide a brief synopsis of your research, teaching and administrative responsibilities. Outline what the work involved and what you achieved. For example, describe any novel approaches you applied and any publications you were involved with. Focus on the technical and transferable skills you gained that are relevant to the job you're seeking.

Additional Experience

Summer
2021

Role title, Name of organisation

Briefly describe previous jobs outside academia relating them to the role you're seeking, especially the requisite transferable skills

May '19-
June '20

Role title, Name of organisation

Briefly describe previous jobs outside academia relating them to the role you're seeking, especially the requisite transferable skills

Publications

- List any publications to which you've contributed
- Include journal articles, conference papers, presentation and work in progress etc.
- Use the Harvard System to reference

Conferences and Courses Attended

- List any conferences you've attended outlining where and when they were held and any contribution you made

Professional MembershipsInterests and Achievements*References

First Reference
Research Supervisor
Full name and title
Address
Phone number
Email

Second Reference [Another academic, preferably in a field related to the position you're applying for]
Full name and title
Address
Phone number
Email

You may also want to attach a synopsis of the work carried out on your PhD