

Exercise C15.3: Sentences to translate into Latin

1. With several people speaking, many voices from the crowd were heard.
2. When my dreadful crime had been found out, I knew that I would pay the penalty.
3. After the cruel punishments had been given, the commander promised that he would soon set out.
4. With his hands raised to the sky, the emperor spoke boldly to the legion.
5. If today there is hope of victory, tomorrow we shall rejoice.
6. The emperor, whom the legions favoured, gave many rewards to his faithful army.
7. A certain captive resisted, but the rest put down their weapons.
8. Because the legion, having set out before first light, had advanced for five days, the emperor was able to win.
9. We live without many cares and we often rejoice in our souls, because at home our toils are brief.
10. While the army was advancing towards the camp, the soldiers were hoping that the generals would not capture them.