

Multiple Choice Questions

Chapter 12: Implementation

1. Implementation involves which of the following activities?
  - a. Running simulation experiments
  - b. Validation of the model
  - c. Managers learning from a simulation model
  - d. All of the above
2. For a simulation study to be successful which of the following must be achieved?
  - a. The study achieves its objectives
  - b. The findings are implemented
  - c. Money is saved as a result of the simulation study
  - d. All of the above
3. Evidence suggests that clients' perceptions of the quality of a simulation study are primarily based on which of the following?
  - a. The precision of the confidence intervals that are reported from the model
  - b. The extent to which the process of delivery of the work meets their expectations
  - c. The use of statistical methods to validate the model
  - d. The time taken to complete the study