

Company's original position on each of the chosen aspects and the resulting profile

Company's current position on each of the chosen aspects and the resulting profile

The current year profile illustrates the dogleg shape, which reflects the inconsistencies between the high-volume batch processes and infrastructure purchased in the past, and the current market position.

EXHIBIT 6.4 A product profile of a company's mainstream products to illustrate the impact of incremental marketing decisions