

LONG CONTENTS

Illustrations and Features	x
About the Author	xv
Tour of the Book	xvi
Summary of the Book	xviii
Online Resources	xx
List of Abbreviations	xxi
Acknowledgements	xxii

INTRODUCTION

1

What is global studies?	2
The world as a community of 100 people	6
Some notes on this book's approach	10

1. HISTORY

15

The emergence of the modern world	16
World war and the end of empire	21
The Cold War	25
The new global system	28
Globalization	31

2. POPULATION AND RESOURCES

37

The global population	38
Feeding the world	41
The new urban majority	44
Natural resources	47
Meeting our energy needs	50
Managing forests and oceans	54

3. IDENTITY AND CULTURE	59
Identity and worldview	60
Understanding culture	65
Accounting for race and ethnicity	69
The changing place of religion	73
4. SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY	79
Science, technology, and global change	80
The state of global health	82
The globalization of disease	86
The digital revolution	88
Information, communication, and tourism	93
5. STATES AND GOVERNMENT	99
Understanding states	100
States vs. nations	106
The evolution of states	107
Understanding government	111
Challenges to the state	116
6. LAW AND INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS	121
Understanding global governance	122
International law	124
International organizations	128
Non-state actors	133
Regional integration	138
7. HUMAN RIGHTS	143
Understanding human rights	144
The evolution of rights	147
The expansion of rights	150
The global human rights regime	153
Comparing records on human rights	159
8. ECONOMY	163
Understanding the global economy	164
The changing global economic landscape	169

The global financial regime	173
Wealth and its effects	177
Poverty and its effects	179

9. TRADE

187

Understanding trade	188
The evolution of global trade	190
The changing global trading landscape	192
The global trade regime	197
Free trade	200
Trade and inequality	203

10. MIGRATION

209

Understanding migration	210
The causes of migration	214
The global refugee problem	218
The global migration regime	221
The effects of migration	225

11. ENVIRONMENT

233

Understanding the environment	234
The global environmental regime	238
Biodiversity	244
Climate change	248

12. WAR AND PEACE

255

Understanding war	256
The causes of war	260
Understanding peace	263
The conditions needed for peace	267
The global security regime	269
Terrorism	271
Conclusions: Future directions in global studies	277
Glossary	281
Bibliography	291
Index	301