ACCESS

What does this mean for my access to Bloomsbury Accounting and Tax Service?

Nothing! Your access will continue with the same great content and anytime access, but with an elevated look and feel on the new platform.

Where will I go to log in?

You'll be able to access the new and improved Bloomsbury Accounting and Tax Service at this URL:
<https://www.icaewbloomsburypro.com/>.

Please visit

<https://my.icaew.com/memberfirmaccess/> to register or login. You will need your firm reference number in order to register. Your practice assurance principal should be able to supply this information. CONTENT

Will my old bookmarks still work?

URL redirects will be set up to support users who have bookmarked previous URLs, or who are accessing them via library catalogue systems, reading lists, search engines, as well as other discovery and indexing databases.

Please note the redirects will live in our platform indefinitely. DOIs will continue to point to the new platform too. This means that if you are using our MARC records (which include DOI URLs), you do not need to adjust URLs. If you are using your own MARC records or are bookmarking pages using the OLD platform URLs, you are covered by the redirects.

How do I access New and Noteworthy?

You will be able to find New and Noteworthy on the homepage images in the middle, and under 'Browse Content' and clicking on New and Noteworthy. These will take you through to the page where our New and Noteworthy is now hosted.
