Kimberly Martin

has successfully completed all requirements of the Ancient Song, Inc. Full Spectrum Doula Certification Program, a nationally aligned, community-based training and competency program. This certification is awarded upon completion of all required instructional and experiential training hours and demonstration of competency in providing prenatal, labor, birth, and postpartum doula support. Certified doulas have received training in the anatomy and physiology of pregnancy and childbirth, as well as education in trauma-informed care, cultural humility, and ethical doula practice. The program is grounded in a Birth Justice and Human Rights framework and includes supervised client support, along with the completion of all required documentation and evaluation standards.

Portability Statement:
This certification is designed to be nationally portable and aligns with community-based doula workforce standards recognized across multiple states, Medicaid doula benefit programs, community-based organizations, and hospital systems. Certification reflects competencies consistent with nationally recognized non-clinical doula practice standards.
