THE ACADEMY OF Lactation Policy and Practice

Congratulations!

Dear Angel Coleman:

Thank you for submitting your request form to the Academy of Lactation Policy and Practice. Per your request, please find your Certified Lactation Counselor (CLC) certificate and your pocket card attached.

The CLC credential signifies that you have demonstrated the necessary skills, knowledge and competencies to provide breastfeeding counseling and management support to families who are thinking about breastfeeding or who have questions or problems during the course of breastfeeding/lactation. CLCs are dedicated to the promotion, protection and support of breastfeeding and human lactation in their work to prevent and solve breastfeeding problems. CLCs understand that breastfeeding works best when it is the cultural norm and when the provider of lactation support services is culturally competent. Research has shown that the education required of CLCs prior to certification is associated with improved breastfeeding outcomes. There are currently over 23,000 CLCs in the US.

Your certificate is valid for three years. Please note the expiration date on your certificate. You will be able to recertify using 18 hours of continuing education about breastfeeding. You can download a recertification handbook from the website: www.alpp.org. The handbook contains detailed information about the recertification process as well as the application for recertification. Certificants who do not provide adequate proof of 18+ hours of appropriate continuing education will not receive a renewal certificate and can no longer use the designation CLC. Please feel free to contact us with any questions.

Best wishes in your work with mothers and babies.

Very Truly Yours,

Ellie MacGregor, Director
