

RONDO

Rondo is a game that is great for working on your passing, first touch as well as winning the ball back. All you need is four or more players and a ball!

1

To start, choose one player to go in the middle, their aim is to win the ball back.

2

The players around the middle player have to pass the ball between each other, without them winning it back.

3

When the middle player gets the ball, they swap with the person who lost the ball.

4

You can change the rules by adding limited touches on the ball or adding more players to the middle.
