CHL HISTORY IN A NUTSHELL

- Launched in 2014/15
- 4 successfully completed seasons
- 600 games played
- 74 clubs involved
- 13 leagues & 15 countries involved
- 3 different champions from 2 countries to date
 - 2015 Luleå Hockey (SWE)
 - 2016 & 2017 Frölunda Indians (SWE)
 - 2018 JYP Jyväskylä (FIN)
- 8 draws held

THE COMPETITION FORMAT

- 32 teams from 13 leagues
- Teams can only qualify on sporting merits
- No founding club shall automatically be granted playing rights
- A maximum of 5 teams per country
- The CHL Champions are automatically qualified for the next CHL season. However, this will not grant one extra place for the league of the CHL winners.

The current format is based on clear and measurable qualification criteria and was successfully launched from the 2017/18 season. It's now only 32 instead of 48 teams competing for the European Trophy. Narrowing down the field of participants has made the competition more exclusive and, with the removal of automatic playing rights for CHL founding teams, only the best qualify. Teams have to be champion or in the top places of in their domestic league to earn a place. This format change makes not only the Champions Hockey League, but also national leagues, more appealing. The "race to qualify" climaxes at the end of regular seasons and in the playoffs, delivering extra excitement to the fans, media and European club ice hockey.

PARTICIPATING LEAGUES

The 2018/19 season will run with the same participating leagues as 2017/18 and 2016/17:

- Founding Leagues: Austria (EBEL), Czech Republic, Finland, Germany, Sweden and Switzerland.
- Challenger Leagues: Belarus, Denmark, France, Great Britain, Norway, Poland, Slovakia and the IIHF Continental Cup winners (Yunost Minsk, BLR).

There is one slight adaption regarding the qualification of the Continental Cup winners compared to previous seasons: If Yunost Minsk also win the national championship, no additional CHL spot will be granted to Belarus (e.g. to runners-up or regular season winners). The CHL will award a second wild card to the best-ranked challenger league instead, which is Slovakia.

Going forward, one of the CHL's challenges remains bringing the KHL on board. Should the KHL commit to join the league eventually, the allocation of places will be reviewed for the future. Further, the awarding of wild cards for the champions of challenger leagues is subject of formal approval by the CHL board every season.

QUALIFICATION SYSTEM

As previously pointed out, teams must earn their place in the CHL on the ice. Teams must reach one of the following criteria in order to become a CHL contestant:

1. CHL champions
2. National league champions
3. Regular season winners
4. Regular season runners-up
5. Losing playoff finalists
6. Higher regular season ranked losing semi-finalist
7. Lower regular season ranked losing semi-finalist
8. Third placed team in regular season

Great Britain is the lone exception as the EIHL, in line with their tradition, determines their national champion following the regular season (not in the playoffs).

Allocation of places per league

The number of places per league is allocated with the help of the CHL league ranking. This tool calculates the performance of teams in every CHL season and the better the teams perform, the more spots a league can achieve. However, the six founding leagues remain ranked 1-6 while all challenger leagues follow in accordance. For 2018/19, the previous four CHL seasons have been taken into consideration (weighted 100, 75, 50 and 25 percent – in which the newest season counts the most).

The CHL league ranking after the 2017/18 season looks as follows (online version see here):
