

BUSINESS

Program	Disclosure Statement
Accountancy (M.Acc)	Requirements for the Certified Public Accountant (CPA) license vary by state and may, at minimum, include completing an application, paying a fee, passing licensure exams, and completing work experience. To apply for an initial CPA license in Tennessee, candidates must earn a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university and obtain a total of 150 semester hours of education. Education must include 30 semester hours in accounting (24 of which must be in upper division courses) and 24 semester hours in business courses. CBU's Master of Accountancy program, combined with a bachelor's degree program providing at least 30 credit hours of non-accounting business courses and 120 credit hours total, meets the educational requirements for Tennessee. The candidate must then pass the Uniform CPA Examination, score 90% or better on an ethics examination given by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA), and complete one year of experience in accounting acceptable to the Board. Other states have their own certification/licensure requirements; links to information about obtaining licensure outside Tennessee can be found here .
Accounting (BS)	Requirements for the Certified Public Accountant (CPA) license vary by state and may, at minimum, include completing an application, paying a fee, passing licensure exams, and completing work experience. CBU's BS in Accounting by itself does not meet all the educational requirements for any states, because all states require 150 credit hours. To apply for an Initial CPA license in Tennessee, candidates must earn a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university and obtain a total of 150 semester hours of education. Education must include 30 semester hours in accounting (24 of which must be in upper division courses) and 24 semester hours in business courses. Completing both the BS in Accounting and Master of Accountancy programs at CBU meets the educational requirements for Tennessee. The candidate must then pass the Uniform CPA Examination, score 90% or better on an ethics examination given by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA), and complete one year of experience in accounting acceptable to the Board. Other states have their own certification/licensure requirements; links to information about obtaining licensure outside Tennessee can be found here .
Business Administration (BS, Banking Concentration)	This program is not intended to meet any professional licensure requirements in any U.S. state, territory, jurisdiction or location.
Business Administration (BS, Human Resource Management)	This program is not intended to meet any professional licensure requirements in any U.S. state, territory, jurisdiction or location.
Finance (BS)	This program is not intended to meet any professional licensure requirements in any U.S. state, territory, jurisdiction or location.

EDUCATION

Program	Disclosure Statement
Cultural Studies (BA)	To be licensed to teach in the State of Tennessee, prospective teachers must earn a bachelor's degree from a regionally-accredited college or university, meet all professional assessment requirements as specified by the State Board of Education, complete an approved educator preparation program, and be recommended for licensure by the program provider. CBU is approved by the State of Tennessee as an educator preparation program. Other states have their own certification/licensure requirements; links to information about obtaining licensure outside Tennessee can be found here .
Early Childhood (BA)	To be licensed to teach in the State of Tennessee, prospective teachers must earn a bachelor's degree from a regionally-accredited college or university, meet all professional assessment requirements as specified by the State Board of Education, complete an approved educator preparation program, and be recommended for licensure by the program provider. CBU is approved by the State of Tennessee as an educator preparation program. Other states have their own certification/licensure requirements; links to information about obtaining licensure outside Tennessee can be found here .
Education (M.Ed)	CBU's Master of Education degree program is designed for students who have already met the requirements for teacher licensure through previous undergraduate or graduate work.
Educational Leadership (MSEL)	CBU's Master of Science in Educational Leadership degree program is designed for students who have already met the requirements for teacher licensure through previous undergraduate or graduate work. The program prepares students to take the Beginning Instructional Leadership License test for the state of Tennessee. Other states have their own certification/licensure requirements; links to information about obtaining licensure outside Tennessee can be found here .
English Education (BA)	To be licensed to teach in the State of Tennessee, prospective teachers must earn a bachelor's degree from a regionally-accredited college or university, meet all professional assessment requirements as specified by the State Board of Education, complete an approved educator preparation program, and be recommended for licensure by the program provider. CBU is approved by the State of Tennessee as an educator preparation program. Other states have their own certification/licensure requirements; links to information about obtaining licensure outside Tennessee can be found here .
Fast Track Administrative License	CBU's Fast Track Administrative Licensure program is designed for students who have already met the requirements for teacher licensure through their previous undergraduate or graduate work. The program prepares students to take the Beginning Instructional Leadership License test for the state of Tennessee. Other states have their own certification/licensure requirements; links to information about obtaining licensure outside Tennessee can be found here .
History Education (BA)	To be licensed to teach in the State of Tennessee, prospective teachers must earn a bachelor's degree from a regionally-accredited college or university, meet all professional assessment requirements as specified by the State Board of Education, complete an approved educator preparation program, and be recommended for licensure by the program provider. CBU is approved by the State of Tennessee as an educator preparation program. Other states have their own certification/licensure requirements; links to information about obtaining licensure outside Tennessee can be found here .
Liberal Studies (BA)	CBU's Liberal Studies degree program is designed for students who intend to complete the requirements for teacher licensure in Tennessee by continuing to a Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) program. Other states have their own certification/licensure requirements; links to information about obtaining licensure outside Tennessee can be found here .

EDUCATION (continued)

Program	Disclosure Statement
Liberal Studies Education (BA)	To be licensed to teach in the State of Tennessee, prospective teachers must earn a bachelor's degree from a regionally-accredited college or university, meet all professional assessment requirements as specified by the State Board of Education, complete an approved educator preparation program, and be recommended for licensure by the program provider. CBU is approved by the State of Tennessee as an educator preparation program. Other states have their own certification/licensure requirements; links to information about obtaining licensure outside Tennessee can be found here .
Mathematics Education (BA)	To be licensed to teach in the State of Tennessee, prospective teachers must earn a bachelor's degree from a regionally-accredited college or university, meet all professional assessment requirements as specified by the State Board of Education, complete an approved educator preparation program, and be recommended for licensure by the program provider. CBU is approved by the State of Tennessee as an educator preparation program. Other states have their own certification/licensure requirements; links to information about obtaining licensure outside Tennessee can be found here .
Natural Science Education (BA)	To be licensed to teach in the State of Tennessee, prospective teachers must earn a bachelor's degree from a regionally-accredited college or university, meet all professional assessment requirements as specified by the State Board of Education, complete an approved educator preparation program, and be recommended for licensure by the program provider. CBU is approved by the State of Tennessee as an educator preparation program. Other states have their own certification/licensure requirements; links to information about obtaining licensure outside Tennessee can be found here .
Special Education (BA)	To be licensed to teach in the State of Tennessee, prospective teachers must earn a bachelor's degree from a regionally-accredited college or university, meet all professional assessment requirements as specified by the State Board of Education, complete an approved educator preparation program, and be recommended for licensure by the program provider. CBU is approved by the State of Tennessee as an educator preparation program. Other states have their own certification/licensure requirements; links to information about obtaining licensure outside Tennessee can be found here .
Teaching (MAT)	CBU's Master of Arts in Teaching Program offers coursework required for initial licensure in Tennessee for students who do not already hold an apprentice or professional teaching license. CBU is approved by the State of Tennessee as an educator preparation program. Other states have their own certification/licensure requirements; links to information about obtaining licensure outside Tennessee can be found here .
Teaching Licensure	CBU's Teacher Licensure Program offers coursework required for initial licensure in Tennessee for students who already hold a bachelor's degree. CBU is approved by the State of Tennessee as an educator preparation program. Other states have their own certification/licensure requirements; links to information about obtaining licensure outside Tennessee can be found here .

ENGINEERING

Program	Disclosure Statement
Chemical Engineering (BS)	CBU's ABET-accredited BS in Chemical Engineering program fully meets the educational requirements to sit for the Fundamentals of Engineering (FE) exam and subsequently, after at least four years of practice, the Principals and Practice of Engineering (PE) exam for the state of Tennessee. The FE is a national exam, and a passing result in any state is generally accepted nationwide. Additional work experience and professional recommendations are required in all states prior to sitting for the PE exam. Each state has its own certification/licensure requirements; links to information about obtaining licensure can be found here .
Civil Engineering (BS)	CBU's ABET-accredited BS in Civil Engineering program fully meets the educational requirements to sit for the Fundamentals of Engineering (FE) exam and subsequently, after at least four years of practice, the Principals and Practice of Engineering (PE) exam for the state of Tennessee. The FE is a national exam, and a passing result in any state is generally accepted nationwide. Additional work experience and professional recommendations are required in all states prior to sitting for the PE exam. Each state has its own certification/licensure requirements; links to information about obtaining licensure can be found here .
Electrical Engineering (BS)	CBU's ABET-accredited BS in Electrical Engineering program fully meets the educational requirements to sit for the Fundamentals of Engineering (FE) exam and subsequently, after at least four years of practice, the Principals and Practice of Engineering (PE) exam for the state of Tennessee. The FE is a national exam, and a passing result in any state is generally accepted nationwide. Additional work experience and professional recommendations are required in all states prior to sitting for the PE exam. Each state has its own certification/licensure requirements; links to information about obtaining licensure can be found here .
Engineering Management (BS)	This program is not intended to meet any professional licensure requirements in any U.S. state, territory, jurisdiction or location.
Engineering Management (MS)	This program is not intended to meet any professional licensure requirements in any U.S. state, territory, jurisdiction or location.
Mechanical Engineering	CBU's ABET-accredited BS in Mechanical Engineering program fully meets the educational requirements to sit for the Fundamentals of Engineering (FE) exam and subsequently, after at least four years of practice, the Principals and Practice of Engineering (PE) exam for the state of Tennessee. The FE is a national exam, and a passing result in any state is generally accepted nationwide. Additional work experience and professional recommendations are required in all states prior to sitting for the PE exam. Each state has its own certification/licensure requirements; links to information about obtaining licensure can be found here .

HEALTH SCIENCES

Program	Disclosure Statement
Applied Health Services (AS)	CBU's AS in Applied Health Services program is designed for students who have already completed Emergency Medical Technician (Basic or Advanced), Emergency Medical Services (Paramedic), or Paramedic Certification/Licensure. This program, by itself, is not intended to meet any professional licensure requirements in any U.S. state, territory, jurisdiction or location.
Health Science (BS)	CBU'S BS in Health Sciences is designed to prepare students for work in a healthcare setting or for professional- and/or graduate-level clinical healthcare programs. This program, by itself, is not intended to meet any professional licensure requirements in any U.S. state, territory, jurisdiction or location.

HEALTH SCIENCES (continued)

Program	Disclosure Statement
Nursing (BSN)	CBU's RN-to-BSN program is designed for students who are already working as registered nurses. The Traditional BSN Nursing program meets the educational requirements for students to be eligible apply to the Tennessee State Board of Nursing for RN licensure. CBU's Traditional BSN Nursing program does not guarantee licensure; all graduates of the program must pass the NCLEX licensing exam. Some state licensing boards have additional requirements beyond education and passing the NCLEX-RN examination; links to information about obtaining licensure outside the state of Tennessee can be found here .
Physician Assistant Studies (MS)	CBU's MS in Physician Assistant Studies program is designed to meet the educational requirements for students to take and pass the Physician Assistant National Certifying Examination (PANCE) and apply for state medical licensure to work with a supervising physician or surgeon. Information about obtaining state licensure can be found here .

PSYCHOLOGY/ART THERAPY

Program	Disclosure Statement
Applied Psychology (BA)	This program is not intended to meet any professional licensure requirements in any U.S. state, territory, jurisdiction or location.
Professional Psychology (AA, BA)	This program is not intended to meet any professional licensure requirements in any U.S. state, territory, jurisdiction or location.
Psychology (BA)	This program is not intended to meet any professional licensure requirements in any U.S. state, territory, jurisdiction or location.
Visual Arts (BA, Art Therapy Concentration)	This program is not intended to meet any professional licensure requirements in any U.S. state, territory, jurisdiction or location.