Moon Thoughts

This concert is all about the moon! Why? Because the moon is inspiring! It's more inspiring than a banana or a teaspoon, at least I think so.

For thousands of years, humans here on Earth have been inspired by the moon. We have been writing poems to the moon, worshipping the moon, dancing in moonlight, calculating time by the moon, meeting secretly by moonlight, claiming to see a man in the moon, proclaiming that the moon is made of green cheese, blaming the moon for troubles, praising the moon for joys, looking at the moon through telescopes, dreaming about flying to the moon and living on the moon, actually traveling to the moon, and most important of all—writing music about the moon!

I remember when astronauts landed on the moon! Astronauts Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin were the first human beings to walk on the moon! The year was 1969. Not only was that the year of the moon landing, but it was the first year of concerts here at the Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center!

If you want to write a poem, story, or song about the moon, how would you start? First, I think you probably would look at the moon a lot and study pictures of the moon's phases, which have different shapes (my favorite is the crescent because I like to eat croissants). You might listen to music about the moon, like the music on today's concert! Then, you might start dreaming about the moon. Then: write your poem, story, or song and see if you can capture the feeling of your moon dreams!

Moon rhymes with lots of words: spoon, June, tune, cartoon, balloon, noon, baboon, croon, dune, telephone, prune, and more. Well, moon doesn't rhyme with more. But I will think of another word soon!

— Inspector Pulse

Bright in the Night

Bright in the night
Starry night
A silver moon glistens in the night
When the day passes by
The night reveals the moon

About the Artists

PHOTOGRAPH BY

Bruce Adolphe

When he was a child Bruce Adolphe watched both Victor Borge and Leonard Bernstein on TV, and after seeing them, he began “playing piano” on the breakfast table and cracking jokes with a Danish accent. Having no choice, his parents bought him a toy piano, at which Bruce pretended to be Schroeder of the Peanuts cartoons. Soon after the toy piano was pecked apart by the family parakeet, Bruce’s parents purchased a real piano and a larger bird. By age ten, Bruce was composing music, and no one has been able to stop him since. As a “tween,” Bruce studied piano, clarinet, guitar, bass, and—as a teen—the bassoon. All this time, he wrote music and improvised accompaniments to everything that happened around him, as if life were a movie in need of a score. His favorite summers were spent at the Kinhaven Music School and he loved his Saturdays at the Juilliard School’s Pre-College Division. Today, Bruce spends his time composing chamber music, playing the piano, and performing in concerts for people like you. He lives right around the corner on the Upper West Side with his wife, pianist Marija, his daughter Katja, and his opera-and-jazz-singing parrot PollyRhythm, the same bird he has had since he was 10 years old. Bruce performs weekly on public radio’s Performance Today, playing his Piano Puzzlers (familiar tunes in the styles of the great masters) and you can catch that show on WQXR or on iTunes, or as a podcast from American Public Media. Many great musicians have performed Bruce’s music, including Yo-Yo Ma, Itzhak Perlman, Joshua Bell, the Brentano Quartet, and over 60 symphony orchestras around the world, and of course lots of amazing players right here at the Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center, where Bruce has been making music since 1992. Bruce writes books, too! You can find his book on his website (bruceadolphe.net). Bruce has loved playing piano since he was 6 years old, and today he is a Steinway Artist, which means the piano is either a Steinway or no way will he play it!

Anthony McGill

Anthony McGill began playing the clarinet when he was just nine years old, and it turned out to be the perfect instrument for him! Today, he leads the clarinet section of the New York Philharmonic—one of the most famous orchestras in the world. But Anthony doesn't just perform in New York. He has performed as a soloist with great orchestras like the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and BBC Scottish Symphony, and as a chamber musician in concert halls across the country. Anthony cares deeply about making sure everyone feels welcome in classical music, so he started a movement called #TakeTwoKnees and works with organizations like the Equal Justice Initiative to stand up for fairness and justice. When he's not making music, Anthony enjoys taking long walks in the woods, reading good books, and playing golf with his friends.

Susanna Phillips

Susanna Phillips did not expect to become an opera singer. She thought she was going to be a doctor, but the universe had other plans! She grew up playing tons of sports, loved academics, and danced in The Nutcracker. She took piano lessons beginning in kindergarten, and when her voice started “sticking out” of the high school choir, her music teacher suggested that she start voice lessons. When the time came to apply for college, she was accepted at Juilliard, and she discovered the incredible world of being a musician and hasn't looked back! She now lives in New York City with her husband and four children, and travels all around the world to sing in operas and concerts. She gets to wear beautiful gowns and fun wigs, and loves singing with lots of different kinds of musicians. She enjoys sea salt caramel ice cream, walking their new puppy Beau in Riverside Park, and singing in her slippers.

Julian Rhee

Julian Rhee started playing the violin at age 4, simply because his mom told him to. Instead of practicing, Julian loved sports and playing Mario Kart, and in fact, his childhood dream was to become a basketball play-by-play commentator, specifically for his team, the Milwaukee Bucks! Over time, Julian began to love music more and more, traveling the world and sharing his joy with people from all over. After growing up in Wisconsin and Chicago, Julian moved to Boston to study at the New England Conservatory. In his free time, Julian loves to spend time with friends, eat, and eat some more.

Chelsea Wang

Chelsea Wang began learning piano at age 3 by teaching herself how to play “Twinkle Twinkle” and later decided to also learn the violin at age 7 in her school's orchestra program. She grew up in Iowa and went on to pursue piano performance degrees at the Curtis Institute of Music, the Peabody Institute of Johns Hopkins University, and Northwestern University (yes, that's a lot of schools!) Some of the things Chelsea enjoys about being a professional musician are being able to travel to so many cool places all around the world, learning about all the different cultures, and eating amazing food at each destination. But above all, Chelsea really loves performing music of all kinds—she especially enjoys any opportunity to make music with friends and to show her passion for music to as much of the world as possible!

About James Huntington

James Huntington is a third-grader who loves Minecraft, swimming, and playing with his friends. He plays the piano and electric guitar, and hopes to start learning the cello, saxophone, and tuba soon. James has two sisters, one brother, and a sweet dog named Beau. This is his first poem specifically for a musical composition. He is so happy to be a part of today's concert.

About the Chamber Music Society

Founded in 1969, the Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center (CMS) brings the transcendent experience of great chamber music to more people than any other organization of its kind worldwide. Under the artistic leadership of cellist David Finckel and pianist Wu Han, the multi-generational and international performing artist roster of 140 of the world's finest chamber musicians enable us to present chamber music of every instrumentation, style, and historical period.

Each season, we reach a global audience with more than 150 performances and education programs in our home at Lincoln Center's Alice Tully Hall and on tour with residencies worldwide.

We offer a wide range of learning formats and experiences to engage and inform listeners of all ages, backgrounds, and levels of musical knowledge through our education programs. The Bowers Program, our competitive three-season residency, is dedicated to developing the chamber music leaders of the future and integrates this selection of exceptional early-career musicians into every facet of CMS activities.

Our incomparable digital presence, which regularly enables us to reach millions of viewers and listeners annually, includes our weekly national radio program, heard locally on WQXR 105.9 FM on Saturday and Monday evenings; radio programming in Taiwan and mainland China; and appearances on American Public Media's Performance Today, the monthly program In Concert with CMS on the PBS ALL ARTS broadcast channel, and SiriusXM's Symphony Hall channel, among others. The PBS documentary film Chamber Music Society Returns chronicles CMS's return to live concerts at Lincoln Center's Alice Tully Hall and on a six-city national tour. It is currently available to watch on PBS Passport. Our website also hosts an online archive of more than 1,700 video recordings of performance and education videos free to the public.

The Chamber Music Society wishes to express its deepest gratitude for The Daniel and Joanna S. Rose Studio, which was made possible by a generous gift from the donors for whom the studio is named.

CMS extends a special thanks to the lawyers associated with Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom for their great generosity and expertise in acting as pro bono Counsels.

This season is supported by public funds from the New York City Department of Cultural Affairs, in partnership with the City Council, and the New York State Council on the Arts, with the support of the Office of the Governor and the New York State Legislature.
