Constellium listed as one of the top 100 global automotive suppliers by Automotive News

June 25, 2019 – Constellium is proud to make its first appearance on the Automotive News annual list of the industry’s top suppliers, ranking #94 worldwide.

This accomplishment is a tribute to Constellium’s advanced automotive offer and its close partnership with its customers. Constellium is a global leader in automotive aluminium solutions, supplying a broad portfolio of both rolled products and structural components to the world’s premier brands. With unmatched R&D capabilities and close to 20 plants supplying automotive programs, we are uniquely positioned to anticipate and solve our customers’ challenges, and to engineer high-performing, sustainable mobility solutions.

“Our debut on the Automotive News list of top suppliers is truly a milestone for Constellium as we continue to grow our automotive business,” commented Craig Lewis, Sales and Marketing Director for Constellium’s Automotive Rolled Products in North America. “I would like to extend my congratulations to our employees who give their best every day to make Constellium a supplier of choice in this industry.”

This year’s list was released by Automotive News, the pre-eminent newspaper covering the auto industry, on June 24 and tracks sales from the previous year.
