5. Head of Girls Cricket Course

A two day intensive course for teachers aspiring to, or taking on, the role of Head of Girls Cricket. A relatively new role and one many are still finding their way in, this course aims to provide a clear framework and structure for what this role looks like and how teachers can operate in it effectively. Throughout the course we will cover:

- What does the Head of Girls Cricket role look like?
- Key challenges and difficulties to delivering girls cricket
- Good practice case study
- How to manage the transition from soft to hard ball cricket
- Which format to play when?
- Practical workshops to further develop cricketing knowledge
- Umpiring and scoring workshops
- Game management
- ECB Workshop (competitions, talent ID, pathway of girls cricket outside of school)

The course will be a great opportunity to work with your peers and become clear and confident in fulfilling the role of Head of Girls Cricket.

What people say about our courses.....

“Excellent event. One of the best courses I have been on”

Barbara Young PE Teacher Orley Farm School

“Very well organised and detailed CPD. Would love to attend more”

Jaden Cameron, Sports Assistant, Prosepct House School

“Really great event. I learnt a lot in terms of techniques and drills”

PE Teacher Wimbledon High School

“Excellent tuition – perfect balance of theory and practical work.
Fulfilled all my objectives”

PE Teacher Mayville High School

“The Head of Girls Cricket Course gave a fantastic insight on how to transition the girls from soft ball into hard ball. The range of sessions delivered and the level of expertise on offer was outstanding. The course also enabled an opportunity for future fixtures and the sharing of ideas with other teachers who are in the same position. ”

Emily Starr, Head of Girls Cricket at Mayfield School
