“BODY-BRAIN WISDOM- Stress management for NFE practitioners“

There is no learning in a stress mode

Training course

How to create SEL activities for the promotion of mental health and wellbeing by using NFE to design stress management workshops for young people

Zadar, Croatia
13.7 - 20.7.2026

What's it about?

This training course focuses on developing two main competences of emotional intelligence: self-awareness and self-regulation of educator. This 2in1 are fundamental for stress-management and development of resilience in youth work. Starting from positive approach in mental health in which dealing with daily stress is a skill that can be learned and improved, through a holistic blend of body-brain based techniques, tools for development of emotional literacy we incorporate all in non-formal education (NFE) practices. It offers youth workers a space to reflect, recharge, and learn how to empower young people to cope with the challenges of daily life. Participants will explore the existing realities of mental health education opportunities for young people across participating countries and examine how youth work and NFE principles can promote positive mental health.

Where and when?

13 - 20 July 2026
Zadar, Croatia

22 June 2026

PROJECT DETAILS

What will the tc look like?

Young people look to their youth workers, facilitators, mentors not only for knowledge and for information but they also look at them how they handle emotions, stress, and challenges. If an educator is emotionally aware and models self-regulation, it signals safety and trust. This is essential for establishing supportive relationships with youngsters. Otherwise would be almost impossible to engaged them because-no connection, no learning. Only more stress and more pressure.

Through interactive methods, the course delves into different standpoints and perspectives about stress, the causes of stress, its psychological and physical manifestations—including the GAS model—as our body’s way to solve the problem perceived by the brain.

Throughout the training, participants will experience and practice a variety of stress regulation techniques, from conscious breathing and body awareness exercises to emotional regulation tools and other social-emotional learning (SEL) strategies.

These methods are designed to help youth workers support both their own well-being and that of the young people they engage with. A significant focus is placed on applying what is learned: participants will work in small teams to co-create small SEL based methodologies, stress management workshops and anti-stress fitness activities. All these can be later implemented in their local communities or virtual settings, ensuring real-world application.

PROJECT DETAILS

The training is rooted in Youth Goal #5
Mental Health & Wellbeing

It contributes to:

1. Encouraging the development of self-awareness and less competitive mindsets by fostering appreciation for individual skills and strengths.
2. Providing all professionals working with young people as well as family and friends with quality mental health first aid training.
3. Fighting stigma about mental health issues by developing awareness programmes.

PROJECT DETAILS

Further goals of the project

1. To explore the current realities and approaches for the promotion of mental health both in formal or non formal education, in youth work and/or other supportive environments for young people across participating countries

2. To raise participant's knowledge about science based know-how in creating connections to foster readiness for learning

3. To point at existence of different personal coping styles as well as different approaches to conflicts when being in supportive relationships with young people

4. To deepen participants' understanding on importance of the emotional intelligence of an educator in creating social-emotional learning (SEL) environments

5. To learn the essentials of stress—types, stressors, reactions and psychological and physiological responses (GAS model)—and to explore a range of body-brain based techniques for stress regulation and burnout prevention

6. To strengthen the competences of youth workers to design and facilitate workshops for young people using social and emotional learning (SEL), emotional intelligence, regulation (both self and social) tools and adapted from neuroscience, positive psychology and coaching

3 Travel

Participants must keep all travel documents (tickets, travel agency invoices and boarding passes) as organizers are able to make any reimbursement only on the bases of presented documents!

A detailed guide to reimbursement will be provided.

Please don't buy your tickets before we approve them!

When you will plan your trip and BEFORE buying your tickets (especially if your planned travel itineraries are different than 13th - 20th July, please inform us in advance, so we can approve your tickets and travel costs.

P.S. At purchasing your travel ticket, please ask for the invoice

4 Reimbursement

5 Contact & Partners

Travel costs will be reimbursed only for the cheapest way of transport and for the return tickets. Travel expenses are covered by the organisers 100% up to the maximum of unit cost per distance calculator and means of travel, including bank transfer and other appropriate fees (for all the original tickets and ways of travel that are plane, bus, train, ferry, carpooling, NOT taxi).

For distances, less than 500 km one way (by Distance Calculator | Erasmus+), the preferable means of transport are land transportations, such as train and/or bus. If other mean of transport is selected for such travels, e.g. airplane, those will be reimbursed 60% of airfare, in accordance with the principle of environmental awareness and protection.

TRAVEL

Travel budget calculation is based on the distance between your starting point and the venue of the program:
